BIBLIOGRAPHY

BOOKS.

1. ADB (2001b). 'Legal empowerment: advancing good governance and poverty reduction', Overview Report

2. ADB 1997: Micro enterprise Development: Not by credit alone accessed from

20. Swedberg (Ed.), Entrepreneurship: The social science view

32. Thalhuber, Jim (1998) “The definition of a social entrepreneur” found on National Centre for Social Entrepreneurs website (3pp

Articles

471

15. Cox David(1998) toeardspeople centered development: The social development agenda and social work education; Indian Journal of social Work 59(1) 513-530

26. From Vicious to Virtuous Circles?: Gender and Micro-Enterprise Development Linda Mayoux Paper No.: 3 Code: OPB3 Project Title: UNRISD's Contribution to the Fourth World Conference on Women No. of Pages: 77

32. P David Jawahar, S Usha Nandhini and M Shivachandran Women Entrepreneurship Leading to Rural Transformation -- March 05 icfai

46. Mehta, H.B. Historical background of social work in India, Indian Journal of social work 46(4), 1986,441

50. Navlakha, G(1992) Under the gise of Womens empowerment: Fate of Rajasthan Sathins, Economic and political weekly, 30(27), 1645-47.

51. Reports

58. PRIA (2001). Legal Framework for Non-Profit Institutions in India. PRIA

69. Sarah H. Alvord, L. David Brown, and Christine W. Letts, Social Entrepreneurship and Social Transformation: An Exploratory Study

82. Thalhuber, Jim (1998) “The definition of a social entrepreneur” found on National Centre for Social Entrepreneurs website (3pp)

479
83. The Economic and Social Survey for Asia and the Pacific 2007

Unpublished documents

2. Das, J P (1993); Women’s credit for entrepreneurship, sector submitted in completion of Post graduate certificate course in social welfare administration.

3. Jose Minu (2001); An exploratory study into the interface between National Human Rights Commission and NGOs, a project report to the academic council in partial fulfillment requirement for MASW, TISS.

4. Khandlekar, S M (1993); Fund raising practices of Voluntary organisations sector submitted in completion of Post graduate certificate course in social welfare administration.

5. Patnaik R (2005); Women CEOs in NGOs, a project report to the academic council in partial fulfillment requirement for MASW, TISS.

6. Payal Nayak (2005); Staff development in non profit organization – a project report to the academic council in partial fulfillment requirement for MA in Social work, TISS.
7. Sampson E, A(1992); A study of the heath approaches in Non governmental organization sector submitted in completion of Post graduate certificate course in social welfare administration, TISS.

INTERNET.

1. www.censusindia.net
2. www.planningcommission.nic.in/ - 52k –