ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

When any piece of work is satisfactorily accomplished it is never the work of one person but a concerted effort of a number of people, who silently work behind the scene and often go unheard of. Much of any merit this work may have is due to the generosity of those named here, whose knowledge and practical experience has guided me to complete this work.

My first thought is to offer my obeisance to THE ALMIGHTY whose silent but forever help has made all this possible.

"The habits of punctuality, order, diligence, determination and concentration are the key to success." This is what has been inculcated into us by our honourable Head of Department and my Guide, Dr. B.S. Jain M.S., Department of Ophthalmology, M.L.B. Medical College, Jhansi. His sense of precision, infinching tenacity, passion for reason, compassion towards patients, knowledge and experience was a constant source of inspiration to me. It was under his able guidance I read, learned and ventured to write. Still, I take this opportunity to acknowledge most humbly with a deep sense of gratitude my indebtedness to him. His encouragement helped me to carry out this present work.

Gratitude has no means of expression and I am at a loss of words when I express the profound feeling of regard and thankfulness for my Co-guide, Dr. (Mrs) Veena Gupta M.D., D.A. Associate Professor, Department of Anaesthesiology and critical care, M.L.B. Medical College, Jhansi, whose invaluable guidance helped me to complete my work. With sincere thanks I acknowledge her keen interest, untiring efforts and constant supervision that she has rendered to me at every stage of this work.
I wish to express my heartfelt gratitude to Dr. V.K. Misurya M.S., Associate Professor, Department of Ophthalmology, M.L.B. Medical College, Jhansi for his generosity and help throughout my work.

I am extremely grateful to my Uncle, Mr. M.M. Lal for his keen interest and ready help in the completion and evaluation of statistics during the course of this work.

I extend my special thanks to Dr. Ibeamhal and Dr. Sangita who have helped me tide over difficult situations faced during my study.

All my colleagues and juniors in the department of Ophthalmology deserve my heartiest thanks for their co-operation and support during the course of this work.

I feel highly obliged to my computer operator Mr. Rafat Siddiqui (Yes Computer) for preparing this manuscript in an exemplary manner.

Every particle of me is indebted to my parents, brother and sister for their love, sacrifice, care and inspiration at every moment of my life. This study would not have been possible without the active participation of my brother Dr. Ahmad Moetamin and my sister Dr. Aasiya Matin. They have always been available with ready invaluable suggestions and unending encouragement. This study carries imprints of their wise and meticulous advice and words cannot express my feelings for them.

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to my patients whose co-operation is an essential part of any study.

With this I humbly submit this work as a step in the progress of ocular anaesthesia.
