Acknowledgement

The successful completion of the study would not have been possible without generous help from many individuals to whom I am personally indebted in many ways. Though, it is not possible to acknowledge my debt to them in full, an honest appreciation of their kindness and contribution can lead to personal satisfaction and fulfilment of a human duty.

As a small endeavour on my part, I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude and reverence to my supervisor Dr. Chitta Ranjan Sarkar, Associate Professor, Department of Commerce, The University of Burdwan, for his valuable advice, inspiration and constant help which he gave generously and spontaneously during the course of the study in spite of his extremely busy schedule of work.

I also express my deep respect and gratefulness to the Head of the Department of Commerce, the University of Burdwan and learned members of the faculty for their kind help and suggestion, which I received from time to time in course of my research work. I take this opportunity to convey my indebtedness to the authorities and the staff of different libraries, like the Central Library, Burdwan University, the National Library, Kolkata, the IIM Library, Joka, all of which I frequently visited for the purpose of my study.

I am thankful to the authorities and employees of the selected public sector oil & gas companies in India, who were kind enough to provide published annual reports and other relevant documents in the course of my research work.

I am thankful to all my friends, colleagues and relatives who directly or indirectly provided inspiration and co-operation in the accomplishment of the work. I am also thankful to my younger brother Abhimanyu Sarkar, Scientific Officer, Government of India, NCCCM/BARC, ECIL Post, Hyderabad-500062, Andhra Pradesh, India for his valuable comments and continuous inspiration in the accomplishment of the work.

Finally, I record my regards and respect to my parents, Sri Lakshmikanta Sarkar and Smt. Bharati Sarkar, whose blessings are fountains of inspiration. I humbly dedicate this thesis to them.
