ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This research work is the culmination of a long interest in gender issues within the framework of participation and empowerment and it would not have been possible without the help and support of a large number of people.

I am deeply indebted to my supervisor, Dr. Kumar Suresh, for being a constant source of encouragement, and helping me in clarifying and sharpening my thoughts on the subject. He has been instrumental in honing my perspective and helping me to develop the methodological tools, required to deal with the complex issues of the present study. Dr. Kumar Suresh gave generously of his time and knowledge, and his valuable insights and suggestions were of immense help in guiding me through unfamiliar materials and weaving together the formulations and arguments of this work.

I would also like to place on record, my deep gratitude for the unequivocal support provided by the Head of the Centre for Federal Studies, Dr. Ajay Kumar Singh. His comments and suggestions were extremely useful in sharpening the arguments of this work. Late Dr. Akhtar Majeed will always remain a source of inspiration and motivation.

I am extremely grateful to all the faculty members and staff of the Centre for federal Studies, especially Jaaved, Tarvinder, Kumud and Yogenderji, for their help and encouragement. The staff of the Nehru Memorial Library, the ISS Library, the IIPA Library and the Gargi College Library deserves a special mention, for their efforts and warm support.

My family and friends have always been a source of strength, love and affection. It is their unwavering faith and belief in me that has made this work possible, and for this emotional support and reassurance, I am deeply grateful.
