ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am deeply indebted to Dr.(Mrs.) Mita Biswas, for supervising this work with a great critical insight and intellectual acumen. Her unfading assiduity, in spite of her tragical moments of life, has been a source of inspiration, enthusiasm, and enlightenment. No words can suffice to express my gratitude to her.

I am greatly beholden to Late Prof.A.K.Biswas for his valuable guidance and for arranging the books for my present work. Without his illuminating original comments, sterling suggestions and warm blessings at every stage of my work, this dissertation would not have been ever completed. He inspired me to such an extent, that even after his untimely, tragical and sad demise, I feel his presence as if he agrees with Williams:

So this is death that I refuse to rouse and write but prefer to lie here half asleep with a mind
... from the comfortable dark womb.

I am grateful to Dr.Jai Dev, Professor and Chairman, Department of English Himachal Pradesh University, for boosting my morale and inspiring me for a timely submission of this thesis. I am also thankful to Dr.R.S. Sara, H.P.University Evening College, and to all the honourable teachers of the Department of English, Himachal Pradesh University, who have helped me at every stage with their expert advice.

With pleasure I put on record my gratitude and appreciation for the staff of Himachal Pradesh University Library, and the Library of International Centre of Distance Education and Open Learning, Shimla, Indian Institute of Advanced Study Library (Shimla), National Library (Calcutta), American Centre Libraries (Calcutta and Delhi) Central Library (Bombay), and the American Studies Research Centre (Hyderabad).

I feel privileged to record here my personal sentiments for Dr. K.C. Sharma, my husband, and daughter Akshika, for their constant companionship and helpful spirit which gave me the much coveted confidence to progress with this work during the final stages of submission.

I am thankful to my affectionate parents, friends and other relatives for their constant prayers and best wishes for the success of my academic pursuits.

I take this opportunity to express my heartfelt thanks to all those who have helped me directly or indirectly in the completion of this research work.

Finally, I am full of admiration to Sh. G.S. Kutlehrria, for typing the manuscript in an efficient manner during the shortest possible time.

October 1995

ANITA SHARMA