ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The present study is a product of the encouragement, inspiration and assistance of different types that I have received from my teachers, colleagues and friends.

In doing this research, I have been profoundly influenced by the supervision of Dr. P. Periakaruppan, M.A., M.Phil, Ph.D., Professor & Head, Department of Political Science, Madurai Kamaraj University, Madurai. But for his encouragement and critical comments this study would not have been completed. I here record my sincere thanks to my supervisor.

Dr. C. Gnanaprakasam, Professor and Head, Department of Political Science, D.D.E., Madurai Kamaraj University, has always been a source of inspiration to my research work. I express my sincere gratitude to him.

My thanks are due to Dr. R. Mangayarkarasu, Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, Dr. N. Muthuraj, Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, Madurai Kamaraj University, S. Kasim Nasheer, Guest Lecturer, M. Bhuvaneswaran, Assistant Professor, Mr. Ramesh, Department of Sociology, Madurai Kamaraj University, for their kind help.
My heartfelt thanks are to my colleagues in the Department of Political Science, Mr. Pandi, Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, Nagaland, Mr. P. Anand, Miss. S.K. Mercy, Miss. G.
