PREFACE

The Thesis entitled ‘Colonialism and Modernisation; History and Development of Southern Railway, A Case Study’ is an attempt at re-reading the events and developments that led to the formation of Southern Railway, the first Railway Zone in India.

I am deeply indebted to my respected guide Dr. S. Thulaseedharan Assary for valuable guidance, timely suggestion, lively interest and encouragement throughout this project. His unfailing interest in my work throughout has always been a source of constant inspiration to me. My gratitude and indebtedness to him and his family are beyond words.

I express my sincere thanks to Dr. Suresh Jnaneswaran, Head of the Department of History, University of Kerala for his invaluable help and encouragement.

I have to acknowledge my deep sense of gratitude to my respected teachers, particularly Smt. P. Vasumathy Devi, former Head of the Department of History, University of Kerala, Dr. B. Sobhanan, former Prof. & Head, Department of History, University of Kerala, Dr. V. Sathish, Associate Professor in History, University of Kerala, Dr. C. Sarojam, my M.phil Guide at Nesamony Memorial Christian College, Marthandam and Dr. Rajathankam, Associate Professor in History, Nesamony Memorial Christian College, Marthandam, who have all been kind enough to offer invaluable suggestions.
I am grateful to Mrs. C. Accamma, Public Relations Officer of Southern Railway and Mr. S. Swaminathan of Southern Railway for their kind help and advice which inspired me to complete the work within the stipulated period.
