First of all I bow to almighty God, who bestowed me with understanding and learning and who brought me out of ignorance and illiteracy.

I feel most indebted to my supervisor, Prof. Qamrul Hasan Ansari, for his guidance, advice and patience throughout my research work. He provided me self-motivated environment that allowed me to research behind interests not pressure. He is the best Ph.D. advisor anyone could have hoped for. His mentoring skills, patience, enthusiasm and encouragement, were very important in completing this thesis. Most of all, his vast knowledge in mathematics and his sparking mind were the decisive factors that helped me pass successfully the challenges of this work. I am very grateful to him for suggesting a large variety of interesting problems to work on.

I would like to thank our chairman, Prof. Mursaleen, for providing research facilities in the department, that were very helpful to me in building a good mathematical background. I am very grateful to all the professors of Mathematics Department for their affection, support and encouragement.

I would like to thank my colleague, friends and juniors. In particular, thanks to Ms. Swanti Kulshresht, Dr. Himanshu Gupta, Ms. Mumtaz Riyast, Mr. Mizanur Rehman, Mr. Ghulam Mohammad, Mr. Arif Raza, Mr. Rehan Ali, Mr. Monirul Islam, Mr. Pervez Ahmad Ansari, Mr. Pradeep Kumar Sharma, Mr. Feroz Babu. Along the way they gave me very helpful advices that also helped me with the final touches of my work.

Also, I would like to conclude by expressing sincere gratitude to all non-teaching staff and staff of seminar library for the perfect environment they created in this department and for all the help I received along the way.

In closing, I want to express my deep appreciation to my beloved husband Faheem Ahmad for being with me. I have no words to express how grateful I am to him for all the support and encouragement he gave me.

I cannot overstate the importance of such a supportive family to my academic career who accepted my frequent absence. How can I forget to thank my mother Shaheen Rehan, she has been remaining a constant source of inspiration throughout the work. Her moral support and encouragement can not be expressed in words. I must not forget to thank from inner core of my heart for her moral support at every stages of this work. I thank my inlaws and my sisters for all the support they gave me from far away in my home.

At last I express my indebtedness to my glorious and esteemed institution, for the financial support for this work by Aligarh Muslim University in the form of contingent grant and fellowship is gratefully acknowledged. I dedicate this thesis to all of them.

All the above cited acknowledgments belong to those who somehow played a pivotal role along with this work. I can not forget the dandy strives of my undescribed mates who supported me morally and mentally.
