All praises to the Sustainer of the Worlds and grace, honour, and salutations be upon the best of the Prophets and Seal of the Prophets, Muhammad (ﷺ), his family, companions and those who followed him in an excellent fashion and invited humanity towards Allah (ﷻ), till the Day of Resurrection!

With my humble submission in the court of Almighty Allah (ﷻ), I thank Him for showering His blessings and for providing me with caliber and courage to carry out the research endeavor successfully. His grace and mercy ensured my ties with the people who deserve recognition and gratitude in providing me a helping hand in one way or the other throughout the work.

I am extremely obliged and want to express a deep debt of gratitude to my respected supervisor, Dr. Abdul Majid Khan, (Associate Professor, Department of Islamic Studies, A.M.U, Aligarh) for his persistent intellectual support, admirable supervision, guidance, and appropriate direction throughout this painstaking task. His insights, ideas, and correctives provided me new inputs to develop my intellectual caliber. He offered his helping hand in every situation I faced during the whole course. He has ably mended my outlook and reminded me of the purpose of life.

I also acknowledge a debt of gratitude in favor of Prof. Sayyid Ahsan (Chairman, Department of Islamic Studies, A.M.U.) for his supportive behavior toward the research scholars of the Department. I am highly thankful to other faculty members of the Department including Prof. Zafarul Islam Islahi Prof. Mohammad Ismail, Prof. Obaidullah Fahad, Dr. Abdul Hamid Fazili, Dr. Adam Malik Khan, Dr. Ahsanul Haq, Dr. Ziauddin Malik, Dr. Bilal Ahmad Kutty, Dr. Aijaz Ahmad, Dr. Ghazanfar Ali Khan, Dr. Imtiyazul Hoda, Dr. Nighat Rashid and others. Late Dr. Tauqeer Ahmad also deserves due gratitude and thanks, May Allah (ﷻ) bless him with eternal blessings and Jannah al-Firdaws (Āmīn). I am also highly thankful to the non-teaching staff of the Department for their apt response and compassionate behavior.

I am highly thankful to the Library Staff of the Department of Islamic Studies, especially Mr. Kabir Ahmad Khan (Assist. Librarian) and Muhammad Anees; and to the Library Staff of Mawlana Azad Library, A.M.U., Aligarh, for ensuring me an easy access to all the important and relevant resource material. I am also very much thankful to the Library staff members of Allama Iqbal Library, University of Kashmir and Library assistants of Shah-i-Hamadan Institute and Research and Publication Division, Jammu and Kashmir, for assisting in collecting the relevant material during my visit there.

I am grateful enough to University Grants Commission (UGC), New Delhi for granting me the fellowship—JRF and SRF—that truly supplemented and aided me to materialize the successful completion of the research work.

My special thanks are due to Prof. Hamid Naseem Rafiabadi and Prof. Manzoor Ahmad Bhat (Shahi-i-Hamadan Institute of Islamic Studies, University of Kashmir) for introducing and encouraging me to pursue my Ph.D. at Aligarh Muslim University. My spiritual mentor, Mufti Muhammad Imran should receive a special mention in this regard. I am highly thankful to him for his valuable and persistent suggestions and encouragement regarding the material as well as intellectual and spiritual matters, throughout the course of my association with him. Dr. Nisar Ahmad Parra (Ph.D. Department of Arabic, A.M.U.) also deserves my special thanks for his sympathetic support and assistance at the very early and crucial period of my course. Dr. Tauseef Ahmad Parray (Assistant Professor, Higher Education, Jammu and Kashmir) offered his academic support whenever I needed. He deserves special thanks for providing valuable suggestions and remarks related to academic exercises. Dr. Mohsin Afzal Dar also deserves due thanks for his valuable comments and friendly behavior. I also extend my deep sense of gratitude to my dear compassionate friends and companions—Muhammad Dawood Sofi, Mohammad Iqbal Rather, Mohammad Yaseen Gada, Mohammad Irfan Shah, Sajid Shaffi and Zubair Hamid who, besides helping me intellectually and academically; exhibited their love, support, and more importantly humorous exchanges. They exhibited an unforgettable role in the completion of such a hard task. I am also thankful to other research scholars of the department including [Dr.(s)] Muhammad Afzal, Muhammad Hassan, Rahmatullah, Muhammad Hafiz, Arifeen Yama, Ibrat Jahan and Parviaze Ahmad.

Bhat, in addition to Fadl Mohammad Fushush, Mudassir Ahmad Das, Gowhar Qadir Wani, Sajjad Ahmad, Sumayya Ahmad, Iram Nizam, Roshan Ara, Lubna Naaz. Special mention should be here of Mr. Mohammad Mujtaba Farooq (Research Scholar, Idarah Tahqiqat-e-Islami, Aligarh), who provided me some important sources material regarding the subject. Mr. Bashir Ahmad Ganai (Principal, Public Model School, Parnewa) also deserves special thanks for his insightful thoughts and experiences that he shared and discussed with me.

I thankfully acknowledge the Turkish organizations, Istanbul Foundation of Science and Culture (IFSC) and Scientific Studies Society (ILEM) for providing me the opportunity to visit Turkey (thrice), where I had opportunity to receive inputs from the renowned scholars including (1) Prof. Dr. Ian Markman from Virginia Theological Seminary (the USA), (2) Prof. Dr. Colin Turner from Durham University (England), (3) Prof. Dr. Farid Alatas from National University of Singapore, (4) Prof. Dr. M. Sait Özervarlı from Yıldız Technical University, (5) Prof. Dr. Ahmet Kayacık from University of Erciyes, (6) Wael B. Hallaq from Columbia University, (7) Prof. Dr. Muqtedar Khan from Delaware University, (8) Prof. Sari Hanafi from American University, (9) Prof. Halil İbrahim Yenigün from Istanbul Commerce University, (10) Prof. Dr. Abdulvahab al-Affendi from Westminster University, (11) Prof. Murat Çemrek from Necmettin Erbakan University, (12) Dr. M. Hüseyin Mercan from Erciyes University, (13) Prof. Hamid Dabashi, Columbia University, (13) Prof. Ozay Mehmet, Carleton University (EmeritusProfessor), (15) Prof. Adeel Malik, Oxford University. The first five of these deserve due thanks for introducing me with the new research techniques while the later exchanged their ideas on socio-political and economic changes that took place in the Muslim World during the last couple of centuries. Wael b. Hallaq, Muqtedar Khan and Abdulvahab al-Affendi deserve special thanks for responding to my queries related to the subject. Hakan Gulerci and Professor Faris Kaya, Chairman, IFSC also deserve special thanks for their valuable comments and suggestions. Thanks to Muhammad Hüseyin Mercan, organizer of Summer School Programmes held in Turkey, is duly acknowledged for his support and sympathetic behavior.

Special thanks to Prof. Kunwar Muhammad Yousuf Amin for providing a chance to participate in the “National Workshop on Fundamental Issues in Knowledge and its Acquisition” organized by Department of Ilmul Advia Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh (India), 26-30 March 2015. The lecture series delivered by the (aforementioned) learned scholar indeed widened my academic horizon and changed my worldview positively.

I feel tongue-tied to express my sincere and deep debt of gratitude and thanks to my compassionate parents (Mr. Ghulam Nabi Dar and Mrs. Shahnaza Begum) for everything they have done for me besides their unflinching love, affection, and care. My Uncle, Mr. Ghulam Muhammad Dar also deserves special thanks for he treats me like his own son and has taught me since the very beginning. I should be thanking my sisters (Sheeraza and Zahida) for their unfathomable love, encouragement, and support at every step of my life. My in-laws also deserve special thanks especially my father-in-law, Mr. Ali Muhammad Mir and brother-in-law, Mr. Muneer Ahmad, who encouraged me throughout this tiresome period. My mother-in-law, Mrs. Hajirah Bano, should receive a hearty thanks for her affectionate treatment and persistent supplications in my favor. I cannot forget the love, support and sacrifices of my better half, Umm-i Tamim. She deserves special thanks for bearing the entire burden of mundane affairs and creating a soothing ambience during this whole academic expedition. My son Mohammad Tamim, should also get a special mention here for being a continuous source of joy for me. In addition, I would like to acknowledge my thanks to all my relatives, near and dear ones and well-wishers, one and all—I am truly grateful, obliged, and indebted to all of them. Special mention should be here of, Zahoor Ahmad, Gulzar Ahmad, Shaheena, Rahila, Heena, Tabassum, Mahjbeen and others. Last, but not the least, with enormous pleasure and delight, I express my profound sense of gratitude to all of them—although it can hardly be expressed in words. I hope they know that I am truly and sincerely grateful to all of them.
