Acknowledgement

Along the journey of my Ph.D. studies in Biotechnology at Gulbarga University, Kalaburagi, I have been encouraged, supported and inspired by many people. Without their help, it would be impossible for me to complete the program. This acknowledgement is just a mere reminder that they will never be forgotten and my apology to anyone whom I fail to mention.

First and foremost, I owe my deepest gratitude to my supervisor Dr. G. R. Naik, Professor, Department of Biotechnology, Gulbarga University, Kalaburagi, for giving me an opportunity to undertake this Ph.D. work, introducing me to the fascinating world of research. My gratitude to him for guiding me through these years with enthusiasm, patience, intellectuality, encouragement and great scientific and personal support. He has been an inspiration not only for my academic life but also I learnt from him the art of leading a purposeful life. Indeed, I am honored to be one of his students.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Prof. Ramesh Londonkar, Prof. Chandrakanth R. Kelmani and Dr. M. B. Sulochana, Associate Professor, Department of Biotechnology, Gulbarga University, Kalburagi for being my support as the faculty representative. I owe them a lot for their constant support, inspiration and keenness.

It is my privilege to express my heartfelt gratitude to my co-guide, Dr. Kartik Burauh, Artemia Reference Center, Ghent University, Belgium for being my faculty representative from abroad. His constant encouragement, countless troubleshooting lessons and the scientific discussions with him helped me immensely.

A special thank goes to the Department of Biotechnology, Ministry of Science & Technology, Government of India, New Delhi and Erasmus Mundus Action 2 Svaagata.eu Project Lot 11-India for the financial support and an opportunity to pursue my research.

I owe special gratitude to Prof. Peter Bossier, Faculty of Bioscience Engineering, Ghent University, Belgium for his scientific advice, for the stimulating discussions and especially for enabling me to carry out part of my thesis in his laboratory. I am deeply grateful to Prof. Bossier and his entire ARC group for their kind alliance and the pleasant hospitality. A special thanks to Dr. Kartik Baruah again and Dr. Parisa Norouzitallab for helping me with Artemia-Vibrio challenge tests and molecular techniques.

My sincerest thanks are addressed to Dr. S.G. Shrivatsans and Dr. A. Savant, Indian Institute of Science Education and Research (ISSER), Pune, India amongst others for the precious inputs for introducing me to the amazing world of chromatography, concerning nucleotides analysis, his substantial advices, catching enthusiasm, and for running the ISSER instrumentation facility for the same.
My warmest appreciation goes to Dr. Ajit kumar for affording me a MCB instrumentation facility, Indian Institute of Science (IISC), Bangalore, India and giving me numerous helpful suggestions. I would like to express my fond appreciation to all the members of Dr. Ajit kumar, a special thank goes to Dr. Raghavendra Ranjeri, Mr. Nagaraja Mukkayyan and Dr. Deepak Anand.

I wish to express my sincerest gratitude to Dr. Sudhir Kirshna, National Center for Biological Research (NCBS) Bangalore, India for providing me the laboratory facility to work and making cell culture equipment available. My deepest thanks goes to Dr. Sweta Shrivastwa for serving as a mentor and introducing me a world of cell culture and parts of my thesis. Acknowledgments to all my NCBS friends, Narendra Dhele, Shankarrao Patil, Deepak Arya, Shikha Gupta, Aswathy Ak, Jayashree Thatte, A Radhika Rao and Ambika Kurbet.

My sincerest thanks is addressed to Md. Liyakat Ahmed and Dr. Syed Sanaullah, Department of Pharmacology, Luqman College of Pharmacy, Kalaburagi, India for providing me platform to perform animal experiments, their support, helpful suggestions and fruitful advices. I also extend my gratitude to Dr. M. S. Patole, National Centre for Cell Science (NCCS), Pune, for providing me training on cell culture experiments.

My special gratitude towards Prof. G. M. Vidyasagar, the Department of Botany, Gulabrga University, Kalaburagi and Mr. Girish Ashtaputre, Lecture, Sow. Anusayadevi Sonkawade higher secondary school Waledni, for the encouragement and support during my research.
