First and foremost, I wish to express my eternal thanks and sincere prayers to the greatest teacher, The Almighty, for bestowing upon me the confidence, courage and strength to face the complexities of life and for helping me successfully complete this piece of work.

At the outset, I express my sincere veneration and gratitude to my research guide, Dr. K. Anandan Nair, Principal, Navajyothi College of Teacher Education, Thrissur, Kerala, for his meticulous guidance, valuable suggestions and patience which inspired and enriched my growth as a researcher. He has provided me unflinching encouragement and support throughout the years. I am indebted to him more than he knows.

I am much indebted to the service and manifold support offered by the Librarian and other staff of University Library, University of Kerala, which was my research centre. I offer a bouquet of flowers in the form of everlasting gratitude to all of them.

Dr. K. Y. Benedict, Associate Professor, Faculty of Physical Science, Mar Theophilus Training College, Thiruvananthapuram, my mentor, a role model, has been my constant source of inspiration. His timely involvement and efficient contribution in my research has triggered and nourished my intellectual maturity that I will benefit from, for a long time to come. I express my sincere appreciation of his priceless assistance on many an occasion.

I owe my sincere gratitude and respect to Late Dr. N. Vedamani Manuel, former Professor and Dean, Department of Education, for translating the spirit of research in the initial phases of my study, which had given me the right direction to move forward.

Dr. A. Sukumaran Nair, former Vice-Chancellor, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kerala has a special role in revitalizing my research report through his critical comments, which helped me mould the finer details into a cohesive whole.

I owe greatly Dr. P. Viswanathan Nair, former Professor and Dean, Department of Education, University of Kerala, Dr. Theresa Susan, Professor and Dean, Department of Education, University of Kerala and all the Faculty Members at the Department of Education, University of Kerala for the guidance and support rendered during the endeavour.

I am indebted to Dr. Somasekharan Pillai, Department of Statistics, University College, Thiruvananthapuram for the expert advice and guidance in the statistical analysis and interpretation of the research data.

The study could not have accomplished without the co-operation and support of the school authorities, teachers and students whom I have approached during the data collection phase. I owe my gratitude to them.
With great pleasure and gratitude, I remember the immense contributions of my Alma Mater, my teachers at Mar Theophilus Training College, Nalanchira, Thiruvananthapuram, in chiseling my personality and encouraging me to venture into this academic pursuit.

Mr. K. Manickaraj, Assistant Professor, Department of Tamil, University College, my dear student, needs special mention as he was with me throughout the years offering valuable official help.

Dr. Mathew Varghese, Assistant Professor, Department of Malayalam, St. John’s College, Anchal, has rendered his whole hearted support in translating the developed tools of the study to the regional language. Mr. Velayudhan Nair, Assistant Professor, B.N.V College of Teacher Education, Thiruvallam, an expert of English language gave meaningful contribution in editing the report. I share my sincere gratitude to both of them.

Mr. Raman Unnithan and his family have offered unlimited support to me at all times. This finished product has the dreams, prayers and support of the whole family. I am deeply indebted to them more than words can suffice.

Blood is thicker than water! Most importantly, none of this would have been possible without the love, patience, support and prayers of my family, to whom this report is dedicated to. I thank my dear parents Mr. Mohammed Musthafa and Mrs. Nafeesath Beevi, who have given paramount importance in educating their children and taken hardships to transform their dream of this great achievement into reality. My dear brother, Mr. Shine.M.N. was always there with me like a shadow, ready to offer help of any sort to accomplish my goal. This study could not have materialized without his contributions.

Words fail me to express my appreciation of my husband, Mr. Shiyas Hameed whose, love and persistent confidence in me, has taken the load off my shoulder. I owe him for being a strong pillar of support in this endeavour. My little son, Mohammed Yaseen, gave me ample psychic energy, love and affection and has often had to tolerate the absence of his mother. I share my gratitude to my extended family that has aided and encouraged me in this academic pursuit.

Above all, I am greatly indebted to the support and encouragement of numerous people including my well wishers, my relatives, friends, and colleagues who even by their smallest thought, word or deed have helped me during the research. This journey would have been impossible without them.

I bow my head before the Almighty, quoting Mother Teresa:

“I know God will not give me anything I can’t handle. I just wish that He didn’t trust me so much”.
