ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

During the course of my fieldwork in the remote areas of Kangra, Kulu and Lahaul–Spiti districts of Himachal Pradesh, to which my present study is related, I had to avail myself of the hospitality of families and individuals. They, without exception, extended a helping hand to me in various ways, and honestly and promptly responded to my many queries without any hesitation. I am under obligation to acknowledge them individually. However, due to the constraints of space, I humbly take liberty of expressing my gratitude to them all collectively.

I express my deep gratitude to Professor Chetan Singh for the unrestrained guidance that he made available to me despite his busy work schedule and other academic callings. I feel deeply beholden to him.

I am greatly indebted to my wife Anita Sharma and my son Mr. Aryan Sharma for their continuous inspiration and motivation during the study period.

My friends and colleagues Dr. Uttam Singh Mankotia, Dr. Sanjeev Bhardwaj, Mr. Kuldeep, Hemant Sharma, Radha Sharma and Vidya Devi have been very helpful to me in this study. I feel deeply beholden to them for all the help that they extended to me.

Last, but not least, I record my deep appreciation to my mother Smt. Kusum Sharma, Smt. Uma Sharma (mother-in-law), Sh. Het Ram Sharma (father-in-law) and my sister Mrs. Jyoti Sharma. They all encouraged me to undertake and complete this study by shouldering all the household and social responsibilities.
