ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Analysis of 'The Role of All India Radio In Popularising Indian Classical Music' is the subject of my thesis. Under the able guidance of Prof. Dr. Indrāni Chakravarti, Faculty of Performing and Visual Arts, H.P. University, Shimla. I have been able to complete my work. Words fail me to express my gratitude to her.

It was, however, at the particular instance of Rev. Dr. Sumati Mutātkar, Dean (Retd.), Faculty of Music and Fine Arts, Delhi University, whose vast scholarship was always a source of inspiration to me; that I started taking keen interest in the subject. It was only due to her benign encouragement and guidance that I could continue my Ph.D. work on the subject I started in M.Phil.

Thākur, Ustad Chand Khān Sāheb, Ahmed Razā Khān Sāheb and Ghaffār Haidar Sāheb who can be counted among the pioneers of broadcasting in India especially in the field of music. I interviewed them personally and got valuable information. I am indebted to them for permission to quote extracts from their interviews, I was greatly instructed by their insights, views and experiences, which created even stronger personal interest in broadcasting and urged me to write and discuss various important aspects of A.I.R. with reference to Indian Classical music. Some of them are not with us today.

The acceptance and implementation of the suggested recommendations would make the study successful.

I am likewise grateful to the listeners for their co-operation and for providing the information and views that were sought from them.

The greatest assistance provided was by Publications Division Library of Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, News Service Division Library of A.I.R. Delhi, Delhi Public Library, Research and Reference Library of Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, Delhi University Library, Sangeet Natak Academy Library and A.I.R., Shimla Library.

I would particularly like to acknowledge my debt to Sh. S.K. Dhawan, Librarian, Publications Division Library, Patiala House, Delhi.

I would like to place on record my gratitude and thanks to Sh. S.K. Khatri, Director, Audience Research Unit, and Sh. S.K. Ganguly, Statistical Officer, A.R.U., P.T.I. Building, Delhi, for their fullest co-operation and help in providing me the desired information. I was given prompt and generous assistance by them, for which I would be forever indebted to them.

I would like to thank both authors and publishers of the books from which I quoted.

Relevant facts and data have been collected from the Annual 'Reports' of the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting, 'The Indian Listener' and 'Ākāshvāni' (fortnightly journals).

All these enabled me to carry on my work.
The task was challenging, stimulating, educative and rewarding. By the very nature of things at some places, there have been points of disagreement with other Scholars, so I have given my own point of view adducing reasons for my convictions.

The great understanding by my husband Sh. Prem Kaushal can never be expressed in words.

I would be failing in my duty if I do not acknowledge the co-operation and extensive help extended to me by Kiran Dharmāṇi, R.D. Dharmāṇi, Santosh Dharmāṇi, J.C. Dharmāṇi, Āshish and Nandini.

Lastly I particularly want to thank Sh.Prem Vermā, B-10, Radio Colony, Shimla-5, for typing the work neatly and sincerely and to Sh. Naresh Kumār for binding and final preparation of the thesis.

It is the modest beginning of the exploration of the field of broadcasting of Classical music, hopefully that it would lead to further and more detailed studies in the future.

(NALINI DHARMANI)

Faculty of Performing & Visual Arts
H.P. University, SHIMLA-171005.