Einstein has said that success is 1% inspiration and 99% perspiration. The truth of this adage was brought home duly to me when I undertook this research work which would not have been feasible without the sustained support of all the persons that I mentioned here. I will remain beholden to Prof. Sushma Rewal Chugh, my guide and Director, Institute of Vocational Studies, H.P. University, Summer Hill, Shimla. She discerned the researcher in me when I could never have mustered the courage to undertake this Herculean task. Her astonishing zeal coupled with the unflinching support that I got from my dynamic, soft spoken, hardworking supervisor, who convinced me that there was no turning back once I had embarked on this road less travelled. My fears of having bitten off more than I could chew were allayed at every step by the confidence reposed by my wife Doly and my father in law Mr. Lal Chand who generously comforted me in times of doubt by citing Swami Vivekananda saying “Awake Arise and do not stop till the goal is achieved.” The silent but staunch faith and love that my father Shri Chand Ram and my mother Smt. Naro Devi and my mother in- law Smt. Veena Devi displayed in the face of a terminal illness further reinforced my spirit to pursue this work relentlessly on a subject and a place holds an abiding fascination for me.

I am grateful to Prof. S.P. Bansal, former director of Institute of Vocation Studies and presently Vice Chancellor, Maharaja Agrasen University, Baddi and faculty members of the department, Dr. Sonia Khan, and Dr. Chandar Mohan Prashera who had extended full hearted support, encouragement and invaluable contribution at every stage of present work. I am greatly thankful to Dr. Jaswinder Kumar, my friend and Assistant Professor, Punjab University, Chandigarh for his valuable guidance during my research work.

My sincere thanks for Mr. Mohinder Singh, Principal, ITI, Shimla and his wife Mrs. Bandna who supported and helped me during my research.
Further, my sincere thanks are due for Department of Tourism, Government of Himachal Pradesh who furnished me with desired and valuable information on tourism during my research.

My special thanks to my parents, who always encouraged me to aim high in life and pursue a higher education, and without whose teachings, sacrifice and struggle, I would have never reached where I am today. Without the love and support of my family, this would have been a very hard journey. I would like to thank my bothers Mr. Sonki Ram and Krishan Chand, Bhabhi ji Mrs. Kaushlaya and Mrs Saroj, my sister Veena, my brother in- laws Navneet Singh, Vikas, Rajeev and Sanjay and lastly my sister in law Mrs. Anuradha for their love, support and patience. Finally I would like to thank to office staff of MTA Department, Mr. Gyan Chand, Mr. Chaman and Ms. Chhaya for their assistance and support.
