This dissertation would not have been able to see the light of the dawn without the guidance and help of several individuals. All these individuals in one way or the other – directly or indirectly - contributed in the completion of this work. Today, when the present piece of work is being submitted for evaluation, I take the opportunity to extend my heart-felt gratitude to all of them.

Foremost, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my supervisor, Professor Emeritus, Dr. Dalsp S. Thakur, for his continuous support towards the completion of this work. I could not have imagined having a better advisor and mentor than him for my Ph.D. study.

I earnestly acknowledge the help and support provided by Prof. Meenakshi Soodan, Chairperson, Department of Economics, Dr. Sikander Kumar, Professor, Department of Economics, H. P. University, Dr. Aparna Negi, Professor, Department of Economics, Shri N. S Bisht, Professor, Department of Economics, and Dr. Kulwant Singh Pathania, Department of Commerce, H. P. University, Shimla and Dr. Satish Bhadwal, Professor, Department of Education, H. P. University for their encouragement as well as cooperation and support in preparing the manuscript.

I would also like to thank Dr. V. B. Negi, Deputy Registrar, Indira Gandhi National Open University as well as the officers and staff of the IGNOU Regional Centre, Shimla for extending their help as and when I needed it.

Special thanks are due to the non-teaching staff of Department of Economics, H.P. University for rendering their cooperation and timely help during different stages of this study. I would also like to thank Shri Dinesh Kumar Sharma, Assistant Librarian and other staff of H.P. University library for their co-operation and help in utilizing the resources of the library.

I would like to specially thank my family members and friends for patiently bearing with me during the period of research work.

Finally, I bow my head to The Almighty, for all kindness and divine blessings that He bestowed upon me during the research period.
