ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I owe with profound regards, my unfeigned gratefulness to my beacon guide Dr. Kulwinder Singh, Assistant Professor, Department of Education, Himachal Pradesh University, Shimla, under whose benevolent guidance, relentless efforts, whole-hearted encouragement and incessant care throughout the period of present investigation enabled me to complete the arduous research work within the stipulated period.

I extend my fervent feelings and sense of deep gratitude to Dr. B.P. Verma, Professor and Chairman, Department of Education and Dean, Faculty of Education, Himachal Pradesh University, Shimla-5. It is for him that my thesis attained its present form and shape.

I would like to express my internal gratitude to Professor Lokesh Koul, Professor Emeritus, Department of Education, Himachal Pradesh University, Shimla-5 for his remarkable guidance and encouragement in completing this research work.

I am sincerely grateful to Dr. K.S. Tanwar, Director, and other staff, especially Sh. Satyavan Pundir, State Resource Centre, Rajya Gyan Bigyan Kendra, Shimla the voluntary agencies associated with literacy campaign for their assistance in the field work and providing relavant material related to my research. I am equally thankful to other officials including field functionaries, community leaders, neo-literates and illiterates who extended their co-operation during the collection of data and especially Mr. Rajesh Kumar (Compoo), a blooming research scholar, Education Department, H.P. University, Shimla.

I express my deepest regards to Sh. B.N. Kaul, Educational Consultant, New Delhi, for his blessed hand at various junctures during the entire course of the study.

Also, I owe a special thanks to the DAV College, Managing Committee and its officials, particularly honourable Regional Directors, H.P. Zone-I and II, and the teachers and staff of DAV Public School, Baghni (Nurpur) for their kind co-operation, inspiration and moral support for the furtherance of study.

I am highly grateful to the Faculty of Education, Himachal Pradesh University for immense help and valuable guidance, critical analysis and suggestion made from time to time during the course of this study.

I gratefully acknowledge the studies which I have incorporated in my present study from various resources.
Though last to be mentioned, but definitely the first to be thanked are my family members, especially brother Sh. D.C. Suman, wife Nirmal, daughter Punam and son Pankaj who encouraged and provided me a strong and stable back-up in spite of my multifarious responsibilities, throughout my study, and otherwise too.

Sincere thanks are also due to the library staff of Punjab University, Chandigarh, H.P. University, Shimla and the staff of Department of Education, H.P. University, Shimla for providing me necessary material related to my study whenever required.

My sincere thanks are due to Sh. P.C. Sharma for the pains he has taken while arranging typing meticulously through Kusum Computer in a record time and assistance he rendered during this period.
