

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is a great pleasure and privilege to my proud sense of gratitude and indebtedness to my revered supervisor, Dr Anita Sharma, under whose inspiring guidance I undertook and completed this research work. I am highly thankful for her guidance, sympathetic attitude, encouragement and support as a teacher as well as an elder sister.

I sincerely acknowledge the support of Dr D. K. Malhotra for whose valuable guidance, constructive counsel, critical insights, continuous encouragement and efforts that virtually enabled me in accomplishment of this research work. I shall always cherish in my memory his magnanimous encouragement, gracious hospitality and parental affection.

I sincerely express my heartfelt gratitude to the Chairman, Dr R. L. Zinta, Department of Psychology, Himachal Pradesh University, Summer hill, Shimla.

I sincerely express my heartfelt gratitude to all the faculty and staff members of the Department of Psychology for their co-operation on various occasions.

It would not have been possible to complete my research without all the students, who participated in data collection. I owe a particular note of thanks to them. My sincere thanks to all the Principals and teachers of various schools of Mandi (HP), who cooperated with me in this investigation.

A word of gratitude is must for the love and support rendered by my loving parents and brother. I am highly obliged to them for their prayers, good wishes, moral and financial support which sustained me throughout the period of research.

I also express my thanks to my all friends especially Anupam, Kiran, Chander Prabha, and Shweta for their support, love and inspiration.

Above all, I would be failing in my duty, if I do not pay obeisance and heartfelt thanks to the Almighty for His benevolent blessings which have enabled me to put in my best in this endeavour.
