ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It goes without saying that any work finds completion only when a team comes together for it. This was the same with my work too; and I hereby express my gratitude to all of them who have been with me as support and inspiration in preparing this thesis.

Let me first and foremost thank my guide Dr. Mustiary Begum, Professor and Chairperson, Department of Business Administration, Mangalore University; who fanned the flame of research in me by way of clarifications and overall supervision. But for her efforts and personal involvement, this work would not have appeared as it is.

In this connection I would like to thank Dr. S. Irudaya Rajan, Professor, Centre for Development Studies, Thiruvananthapuram; whose advice had catalytic effect throughout my research schedule. Besides, the contribution of Prof. S. Giriappa, Former Professor and Dean, Department of Economics, Mangalore University and Dr. S. Joy, Associate Professor, Devaswom Board College, Sasthamcottah can’t be overlooked.

I would fail in my duty if I don’t mention the great help bestowed on me by Dr. Prakash Pinto, Professor and Dean, Department of Business Administration, St. Joseph Engineering College, Mangalore. My thanks are also due to Dr. Suresh Poojary, Dean, Faculty of Commerce, St. Aloysius College Mangalore, for his valuable suggestions during the course of the preparation of the thesis. I also, in this context, wish to thank all the faculty members of the Department of Business Administration, Mangalore University, my colleagues and friends who provided a moral support to complete the work in time.

I am indebted to Ms Mamatha Rao who helped me in the manuscript checking process and Mrs. Sucharitha Suresh, Mangalore for her valuable help in statistical analysis used in this thesis.

Finally, I express my heartfelt thanks to my wife, Mrs. Haseena Begum, Lecturer, P.A Pre University College, Mangalore for her constant moral support, encouragement and invaluable help at every stage of my research work.
