ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Since writing this thesis required the involvement of various people, I deem it my primary duty to express my deep sense of gratitude for the suggestions, guidance, encouragement and co-operation which I have received from many people in bringing out this thesis in this present form. In this connection, I wish to acknowledge the help rendered to me by various institutions and individuals.

At the very outset, let me express my profound sense of gratitude to Dr. Mohammed Peer, M.A., M.Phil., Ph.D., Dept. of Sociology, Mangalore University for guiding and supervising my Ph.D. studies for about four and a half years. I am deeply indebted to Dr. Peer for his constant encouragement and suggestions while preparing this work. He has shown keen interest, tolerance and dedication for guiding me at different stages of this research work. But for his kindness, constructive comments and timely advice, this study would not have been possible - I shall remain ever grateful to him.

It is also my pleasure to express my indebtedness to the management and the Principal of my college (St. Mary's Syrian College, Brahmavar) for granting me permission to take up the research work. It was Dr. B. Vasantha Shetty, my Principal who spurred me on to undertake a study on Kudubis and rendered invaluable help and encouragement in various ways in completing this study. I sincerely thank his abiding interest and encouragement for an academic endeavour of this kind.

My two former Principals - Prof. Mathew C. Ninan (presently... the Principal of Little Rock Indian School, Brahmavar) and Prof. T.O. Zachariah (presently, the Principal of St. Thomas College, Bhilai, M.P.) helped and encouraged me in many ways in this academic endeavour of mine. To them I offer my gratitude.

I thankfully acknowledge the kind gesture of the General Secretary of All India Association for Christian Higher Education, New Delhi, in granting financial help towards meeting a part of the expenses for preparing the Final Report.

I consider it my duty to extend my sincere thanks to my colleagues in different faculties & the Physical Instructor Mr. M. Chandrashekhar Hegde for their help and encouragement in this endeavour. I would like to express my gratitude to all my colleagues in the non-teaching staff too, particularly to Mr. Cyril P. D'Souza, Office Supt. for his encouragement and Mr. Daniel Monthero for his Secretarial assistance at different stages of this particular work.

I would like to place on record the help I got from the Librarian and the Staff of the following institutions for library facilities whenever I visited:

1) Mangalore University Library, Mangalagangotri.
2) St. Mary's Syrian College Library, Brahmavar.
3) District Central Libraries, Mangalore and Udupi Branches.
4) Poornaprajna Evening College Library, Udupi.
5) St. Aloysius College Library, Mangalore.
6) Govt. Pre-University College Library, Udupi.
7) Govinda Pai Research Centre Library, Udupi.
8) Academic Staff College Library, University of Mysore.
It would have been really difficult for completing the Field Work within the stipulated period of time without the help and co-operation that I got from different people. I express my gratitude particularly to Mr. Ranganath Adiga, Saibra Katte; Mr. T.R. Manjunath, Talnir and his parents; my students - Mr. Shantha Naik, Dinesh Kamath, Shobha Kamath, Shailaja Adiga, Rathnakar Shetty, Mohan Naik, Annappa Poojary for their help to me in different ways.

My sincere thanks are due to Kudubi respondents and their families for sparing their valuable time for me, for co-operating willingly during the interview sessions and also for extending their hospitality to me whenever I visited them at their settlements. Without their unreserved co-operation, patience, understanding and responsiveness it would not have been possible for me to gather the necessary information and data for the study. Also, I am thankful to different leaders of the Kudubi tribe, more particularly to Mr. Gopala Gowda, Yedapadav; Mr. Kuir Naik, Gurikara, Yedthady; Mr. Chandayya Gowda, Yedapadav; and Mr. Ganga Naik, Nalkur.

I express my heartfelt thanks to Dr. Gopala Krishna Bhat, Prof. of Botany, Poorna Prajna College, Udupi and Prof. Vasundara, Dept. of Botany, University College, Mangalore for their kind suggestions and help for finding out botanical terms, during taxonomical and ethnobotanical study related to Kudubi life. Similarly, my thanks are due to Dr. N.A. Madhyastha, Prof. of Zoology, Poorna Prajna College, Udupi for rendering great help.
in charting out the names of the animals from zoological world relating to Kudubi life.

I wish to acknowledge the help and encouragement extended to me by Dr. George Mathew, Director - Institute of Social Sciences, New Delhi and my friend Dr. C.A. Somasekharappa, Dept. of Sociology, Karnataka University's P.G. Centre, Belgaum.

I take great pleasure acknowledging the warm friendship, support and encouragement given to me by Dr. Richard Pais, Dept. of Sociology, St. Aloysius College, Mangalore; Mr. Shukath Azim; Mr. Sreedhara Gowda and Mr. Patrick Furtado, Research scholars of
I would like to thank Sri H. Subbanna Bhat, Sri H. Unandrashekhara Kedlaya, Sri H. Ashok Bhat, Sri G. Seetharam Shetty, Sri T. Haridas Pai and Sri B. Nityananda Rao for their support, affection and encouragement which helped me in completing this work.

I am grateful to my parents - Sri Y. Sadashiva Rao, Retd. Head Master and Smt. Y. Sulochana Rao; my brothers and sisters and my paternal uncles for their encouragement, support and help throughout my educational career as well as through my research work.

Mr. N.S. Adiga, Principal - St. Mary's Syrian Pre-University College, Brahmavar and his staff and more particularly Mr. Ajit Kumar Hegde, Mr. Salvadore Noronha, Mr. Solomon D'Sa, Mr. Gregory D'Souza, Mr. Thomas D'Souza, Mr. Krishnamurthy and Mr. Sarvotham Shetty have evinced keen interest in my project. I express my profound sense of gratitude to them.

My sincere thanks are also due to Dr. Peer's family - Mrs. T.A. Na'een Sultana and Master Mohammed Asfahan for their heartening support and affection shown to me.

I am thankful to Smt. Y. Sridevi Rao, my wife who had a fair share of all the pleasures and pains during the preparation of this research work. I also acknowledge the cheering presence of my children - Master Adheesha and Master Abhijna for adding cheer to my research endeavours. Also, I am thankful to my mother-in-law Smt. P. Parvathi Sharma and brothers-in-law for their encouragement.

My teacher Prof. Seetharam T. Bhat, H.O.D. of English - Bhandarkar's College, Kundapur was kind enough to go through the draft copies of various chapters of my thesis and edit them elegantly. I owe my deepest sense of gratitude to him for having made valuable suggestions for its improvement.

I greatly appreciate the valuable help rendered by Mr. Vishnumurthy Varambally, Principal - Universal Computer & Education Centre, Brahmavar; Mr. Rocky Peter D'Souza, his staff and other Computer assistants for typing out and preparing the final draft with utmost care and efficiency. I specially thank Mr. Rocky Peter D'Souza for his assistance and valuable suggestions. And finally, my thanks are also due to Navyug Press, Udupi for their efficient binding workmanship.
