ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

What is humanly impossible is made possible with God. God walks with me throughout.

I express my sincere thanks to Dr. Mahajan P. Mani, Professor, School of Gandhian Thought and Development Studies, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam for his valuable guidance and supervision. It is his intellectual stimulation, patience and understanding that helped me to complete this project successfully.

Words are insufficient to convey my thanks and respect to Mar. Mathew Arackal, Bishop of Kanjirapally, who motivated and rather compelled me, in this knowledge pursuit. But for him, this would not have been a reality. I express my thanks to him.

I am bound to thank Dr. M. K. Mathew, Professor, K.E. College, Mannanam for sharing his incomparably profound knowledge related to my work. My thanks are due to Dr. John Baby, Professor, Department of Psychology, Calicut University, Dr. Immanuel Thomas, Professor, Department of Psychology, University of Kerala Dr. P.R. Gopinathan Nair, Centre for Development Studies, Thiruvananthapuram, and Dr. M.S. Razeena Padmam, Director, Behavioural Sciences, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam. Highly appreciable are the value additions through their discussions with me amidst their busy schedule.

A galaxy of experts, with their invaluable knowledge and wider experience in the field of Education – its issues, challenges and research, and administration of higher education has contributed in this endeavour in a big way. I thank all the experts for their threadbare analysis of intricacies of the perplexed problem ailing engineering academic community and the industry, their involved discussions through valuable interviews supplementing my research work. They include Prof. Rajan Gurukkal, Vice Chancellor, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam; Sri. Alphons Kannanthanam, a retired I.A.S., now an educationist and Member of Legislative Assembly, Kerala; Dr. R.V.G. Menon, former Director of ANERT, former Principal, College of Engineering, Thiruvananthapuram, and a very reputed educationalist, leading social activist, writer, organizer, consultant to many Government bodies; Dr. B.K. Gupta, former Principal of many Engineering Colleges in India, a consultant to several leading industries including BHEL, Triveni Engineering and Industries Ltd., Asia Brown Boveri Ltd., Anti Friction Bearings Manufacture Ltd., having guided 8 Doctoral and 30 Master theses;
Dr. V. Radhakrishnan a former faculty member in IIT Madras, for 38 years, presently working as Professor Emeritus at the newly established Indian Institute of Space Science and Technology, Thiruvananthapuram, Dr. Achuthsankar S. Nair, a renowned scholar from Cambridge University, now Head, Centre for Bioinformatics, University of Kerala, former Director of C-DIT, Government of Kerala and also as Visiting Professor in University of Korea, a prolific popular science writer; Dr. P. J. George, Project Director, St. Joseph’s College of Engineering and Technology, Palai; Former Director of Technical Education, Kerala and former Executive Secretary, ISTE, New Delhi; and Dr. A. Balasubramanian, a retired Professor with a very long service in NIT (formerly REC), Calicut, now at Thiruvananthapuram.

I thank all the student respondents of all the three universities, covered under this study, for their extreme and disciplined cooperation with involvement in all the tests without minding the long stretch of time and the response of the employed engineering graduates. I thank the help and cooperation of the faculty members of the three universities.

I thank Turning Point, a private consultant and agency for training candidates for IT industries for their help and service rendered in the administration of the test conducted in various universities with meticulous care.

I owe special gratitude to the Manager Rev. Fr. Varghese Parinthirickal, Director Dr. S. Balasubramanian, Deans, HODs, faculty and staff members and students of Amal Jyothi College of Engineering, Kanjirappally for their invaluable help and support extended to me for making this work a good success.

I thank the Almighty for His choicest Graces.

Fr. Jose Kannampuzha
