ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is a matter of great pride and joy for me to express my deep gratitude to Dr. Daleep Singh, Professor, Institute of Management Studies and Research, Maharishi Dayanand University, Rohtak for his learned guidance and unceasing encouragement. Whatsoever appears in this research work is a reflection of his animated involvement, esprit de corps and critical frame of mind. I am highly beholden to him for his direction, advice and profound help extended to me spontaneously and decidedly beyond the call of supervision.

Similarly, I am under an obligation to Dr. H.J. Ghosh Roy, Professor and Director, IMSAR, M.D. University, Rohtak for lending his treasured material and purposeful suggestions for devising a befitting framework for the present study and enriching it substance.

I am equally thankful to Dr. Mukesh Dhunna, Professor and Dr. Pradeep Ahlawat, Associate Professor, IMSAR, M.D. University, Rohtak their encouragement and inspiring support.

My most sincere thanks are also due to Prof. Neel Kant Sharma, Principal Director, DAV Institute of Management, Faridabad for motivating me to complete my research.

I also wish to thank the ready cooperation of the respondents of the selected banks for furnishing vital facts for the accomplishment of this research endeavour.

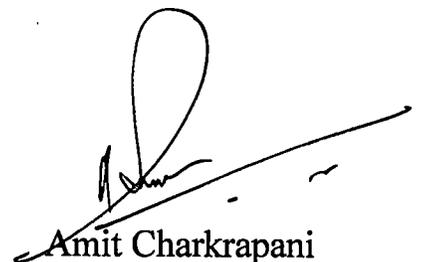

I must acknowledge the prodigious contribution of Mr. Harish Rawat, Senior System Analyst, Ms. Hema Gulati, Assistant Professor, Dr. Ashish Goyal, Senior Lecturer, DAV Institute of Management, Faridabad for their valuable suggestions in improving the language part of the research.

Special thanks also go to Mr. Mudit Rathour, Mr. Amar Singh for their contribution and participation in this research.

I also deem it my earnest duty to offer my special thanks to Dr. Sunita Singh for the domestic discomforts, she had to undergo on account of her husband being engrossed in this project.

I am also deeply indebted to my family especially to my mother Sudesh Sharma and wife, Charu Chakrapani, who stood up to bolster my morale and also to my colleagues and my friends for their help and co-operation.
