Acknowledgement

My foremost remembrance is due to my Supreme Father, the constant source of sustenance behind all that I have been able to perform.

I heartily and proudly place on record my exuberant thankfulness to Namita Gokhale, the author on whose novels the doctoral research work has been pursued and with whose blessings the work is completed. Words cannot adequately express the bewildered joy I felt over her arresting gentleness and the cordiality I was treated with, on 27 April 2008, the day of my meeting with the ever blooming personality, Namita Gokhale.

I owe my immense gratitude to my research guide and supervisor, Dr. P. Venugopalan, (Former Principal, S.T. Hindu College, Nagercoil), Professor of English, Noorul Islam University, Kumaracoil, whose encouragement and copious guidance enabled me to pursue the research work with confidence and made it possible to complete the dissertation successfully. My earnest thanks are due to him without whose insistence, the meeting with the author would not have been realized.

I am extremely thankful to Dr. (Mrs.) C. Anna Latha Devi, (Former Vice-Principal, Scott Christian College, Nagercoil), Professor & Head, Pre-Doctoral Dept. of English, Sree Ayyappa College for Women, Chunkankadai, for her valuable suggestions, erudite directions and regardful, regular blessings that led me through in the making of this dissertation.
With the warmth of gratitude and sincere thanks welled up from the core of myself, I express my indebtedness to Prof. B.S. Sreekumari, Former Faculty Member, Sree Ayyappa College for Women, for her unflinching help, friendly concern and scholastic contribution that have all been of immense help in the preparation of this project.

I express my thankfulness to Prof. (Mrs.) G. Sarasamma, Former Principal, and Dr. (Mrs.) P. Girijakumari Amma, the Principal, Sree Ayyappa College for Women, for their good-willed and unfailing help that enabled me to pursue the doctoral research under F.D.P.

I owe special debt of gratitude to Dr. (Mrs.) K. Vimala, Reader & Head, Dept. of English, Sree Ayyappa College for Women, and Prof. M. Sebastian, (Former HOD of English, Scott Christian College) Dept. of English, St. Xavier's Catholic College of Engineering, for their invaluable help in the completion of this doctoral dissertation.

I also wish to record my sense of gratitude to Prof. Radha Devi Nair, Former Faculty Member, Sree Ayyappa College for Women, and all my friends and well-wishers without whose contribution in their own way, this research work would not have been feasible.

Sincere thanks are due to the Faculty Members of the Department of English, Sree Ayyappa College and the Faculty Members of the Dept. of English & Research Centre, S.T. Hindu College, whose good wishes, adjustment and encouragement proved great strength to me.
The service of the staff members of the Study Centre for Indian Literature in English and Translation, The American College, Madurai, Mrs. S.R. Sudambika, the librarian, Mrs. Sarojini Amma, the former librarian of Sree Ayyappa College and the librarians of S.T. Hindu College and Scott Christian College, in procuring study materials is gratefully acknowledged.

My thanks are due to Dr. M. Sadananthan, Professor & Head of the Department of Education, Manonmaniam Sundaranar University, whose academic concern for me accelerated the completion of the present dissertation. Besides, I am highly obliged to my departed father, my endearing mother and my regardful uncle who were behind the progress of this doctoral dissertation, the fruit of their sincere prayer to the Almighty.

Ganesh and Gokul, my dear children who shared the pangs involved in this doctoral pursuit deserve to be acknowledged, as does all my dear and near ones whose co-operation enabled me to devote myself to the present work.

I am in special debt to Sri. T.M. Rajendran, Nellaiyyapapuram, whose benediction strengthened me with the unfailing hope needful in this venturesome project.

I am thankful to Sree Nesa Computer Centre, Nagercoil, for bringing out the present work elegantly and promptly.
