ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This thesis entitled "World Wars and Popular Movements in Travancore, 1914-1939" is an earnest attempt to focus the resistance of the people to attain their fundamental rights from the Maharaja of Travancore. Their fight started with their demand to obtain their rights in the Revenue Department and Separation of Devaswom from the Revenue Department. It reached its zenith when the Travancore State Congress was formed in 1938. Afterwards the fight turned to be the struggle for responsible Government. Because of the popular movement the Congress Party they could achieve the same only after India got her independence in 1947.

When I was searching for a research topic one of the senior scholars who has a fair historical knowledge suggested the availability of the present topic. I consulted my guide, leading historians and researchers about this topic. From the discussions I had with them I could understand that this topic is of academic importance and has much scope for further research. Hence I selected this topic for my research.

When I made enquiries about the availability of the sources, I could understand that many volumes of records are found in the Kerala State Archives, Nalanda, Trivandrum. The leading newspapers like The Hindu also carry day-to-day incidents and the progress of the popular movements. There are other sources too. The source materials that are employed in writing this thesis is carefully selected and written without blur.

I deem it is my great privilege to have done this research under the able guidance of Dr. V. Ranjan, Assistant Professor, Department of History and research till the time of submission of this thesis for evaluation was shouldered by my guide. His valuable suggestions have made the study what it is today. With commendable patience he went through the draft, suggested alterations and corrections wherever necessary. But for his untiring help and ectouragement I would not have been able to complete my research successfully. I take this opportunity to acknowledge my sincere and heartfelt thanks to him.
