ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is my primary duty to convey my heartfelt thanks to the almighty for his inspiration on me by creating self-confidence, courage, constant attempts which made this thesis a successful one.

It is a matter of delight for me to express my heartfelt gratitude to my respected guide Dr. A. MEENAKSHISUNDARARAJAN, Former Convenor Committee member of Manonmaniam Sundarnar University, Tirunelveli, The Principal and Professor of Economics for his efficient academic guidance, ready and sympathetic help. This project report could not have been written without his constant source of inspiration, encouragement and support, and for the interest that he has shown in the project for which I sincerely acknowledge him. I owe my knowledge of computing and statistics to his patient and excellent teaching abilities. I would also like to express my gratitude for his patience, generosity in advising me at every stage of this thesis. I am immensely indebted to him and words fail me to pay my deep debt of gratitude for his guidance at every stage of my work. He gave me very elaborate, systematic and useful comments on each chapter. His broad outlook and vast experience made me work hard. His encouragement and guidance will be invaluable for the rest of my career.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Prof. Sheila Bhalla and Prof. Praveen Kumar Jha of CESP/SSS, JNU, New Delhi, for their invaluable guidance and appreciation are highly instrumental in the accomplishment of this thesis. They made my record work interesting and innovative.

I am grateful to Dr. R. Paulraj of SES, JNU, New Delhi, for all the help extended to me from the beginning to the end of this study.

I place on record my profound gratitude to the Management, Ambai Arts College, Ambasamudram.

I am grateful to Mr. P. Lakshmanaperumal B.Com, M.P.Ed., Director of Physical Education, Ambai Arts College, Ambasamudram for his helpful advice and constant encouragement.

I express my heartfelt thanks to Dr. G. Maragathasubramanian, Associate Professor in Economics, Ambai Arts College, Ambasamudram for introducing me to my guide and supervisor.

I also thank my brother K. Kanagaraj B.A., TTE, S.Rly, Sengottai for his help in collecting data to pursue my research.
I am highly grateful to my dear students K.Kannakumar M.A and V. Karthick M.A., for their help in collecting both primary and secondary data.

My thanks are due to C.Iyyamperumal M.A Directorate of Correspondence and Continuing Education, Dr.P.Arumugam and Dr.S.Suresh, Department of Statistics, MSU, Tirunelveli for their help in analyzing the data.

I profusely thank my cousins N.Vasanth M.A, M.L., Assistant Professor in Law and N.Ananth B.E., for their timely assistance in computer.

I sincerely thank C.Muthukumar M.A Directorate of Census Operations, Chennai for his help in providing Census data.

I am deeply grateful to my wife Tmt.KRathinamala M.Sc.,M.Phil.,M.Ed, P.G.T in Maths, Sankar H.Sc School, Sankar Nagar, my son Master Mukhil Suganthan and my daughter Dharshini for their profound affection, enthusiastic cooperation and assistance extended to me throughout the research.

I am gratefully indebted to my beloved parents Shri.M.Mookkiah S.Rly(Rtd) Tmt.M.Ramalakshmi and my brothers M.Thangathurai, M.Rajathurai and my sister Tmt.M.Palaniammal for their encouragement throughout my academic career.

I express my gratitude to the hundreds of people of four sample villages in Tirunelveli district who were generously talked to me without fear about their circumstances.

I dedicate this thesis to the memory of my affectionate uncle M.Velayutham, although he is no more, he is a constant inspiration to me and left behind imprints of sacrifice, dedication, hard work and honesty.

M.CHELLATHURAI