Chapter Index

Chapter 1: An Introduction ................................................................. 32 - 42

1.1 Prelude .......................................................................................... 32
1.2 Harold Innis and His theories: A Brief Note ................................. 37
  1.2.1 Theory 1: Empire of Communication ...................................... 37
  1.2.2 Theory 2: Monopolies of Knowledge ...................................... 38
  1.2.3 Social Change ........................................................................ 39
1.3 Theory of Generations (Mannheim, 1952) A Brief Note .................. 40
1.4 Role of Information Technology in Human Communication ........ 41

Chapter 2: Review of Literature ........................................................... 43 - 66

2.1 Cell phone and The Society ............................................................ 43
2.2 Cell phone and Generation Y ......................................................... 53
2.3 Cell phone and Market ................................................................. 60
2.4 Cell phone and Its Negative Effects ............................................... 61

Chapter 3: Research Methodology ....................................................... 67 - 95

3.1 Preface ......................................................................................... 67
3.2 Research Methodology for The Study ............................................ 70
  3.2.1 Definitions of Research ......................................................... 71
  3.2.2 Area of Research Study ....................................................... 71
    3.2.2.1 Thematic Area ............................................................... 71
    3.2.2.2 Subject Area ............................................................... 71
    3.2.2.3 Geographical Area ....................................................... 72
  3.2.3 Locale of Study ................................................................. 72

Chapter 4: Data Analysis ................................................................. 96 - 251

4. a) Quantitative Analysis ................................................................. 96

4.1 Demographic Details ................................................................. 96

4.1.1 Age of the undergraduate students ..................................... 96

4.1.2 Family type of the undergraduate students ...................... 98

4.1.3 Monthly family income of undergraduate students ............ 99

4.1.4 Present accommodation of the undergraduate students ...... 101

4.2 Nature of Cell phone ownership .............................................. 102

4.2.1 Age of undergraduate students at which they owned their first cell phone ........................................... 102

4.2.2 Type of the cell phone set used by the undergraduate students .... 103

4.2.3 Number of cell phone handsets change by the undergraduate students ................................................. 106

4.2.4 Reasons to change the cell-phone sets .............................. 108

4.2.5 Type of the cell phone connection used by the undergraduate students .................................................. 110

4.3 Nature of cell phone usage ...................................................... 111

4.3.1 Nature of saving contact details .......................... .......................... 111

4.3.1.1 Undergraduate students’ practice of saving contact details with same/different names .................. 111

4.3.1.2 Reasons to save contact details with different names ............ 116

4.3.2 Nature of cell phone activity ............................................. 119

4.3.2.1 Frequency of cell phone activities of the undergraduate students .................................................. 119

4.3.2.2 Monthly expenditure on cell phone usage by the undergraduate students ........................................ 127

4.3.2.3 Internet browsing preference ............................................. 129
4.3.2.4 Cell phone time spent pattern of the undergraduate students ..131
4.3.2.5 Average time spent per day on cell phone activity of the undergraduate students ..........................................................133
4.3.2.6 Monthly money spent on cell phone activity by undergraduate students ..........................................................134
4.3.2.7 Keypad Usage in short messaging service option by the undergraduate students ..........................................................136

4.4. Cell phone behaviour pattern of undergraduate students .....................138
4.4.1 Habit of Carrying Cell-phone Set ..........................................................138
4.4.2 Reason to Use Missed Call Option by Undergraduate students ....140
4.4.3 Reason to use short messaging service option by undergraduate students ..........................................................144
4.4.4 Undergraduate students’ intentions to call and talk on cell phone 147

4.5. Perception of the undergraduate students about their cell phone usage and its impact ..........................................................150
4.5.1 Undergraduate students’ perception of impact of cell phone on their life, emotional dependency on cell phone as companion ..........150
4.5.2 Perception of the undergraduate students towards impact of cell phone on their relationship with their parents and friends ..........162
4.5.3 Perception of the undergraduate students towards impact of cell phone on their social behaviour .....................................................173
4.5.4 Perceptions of the Undergraduate students towards impact of cell phone on their public behaviour ..................................................180
4.5.5 Perception of the undergraduate students towards impact of cell phone on routine communication behaviour ..................................185

4.6 Perceived and Reported Behaviour of the Undergraduate students ......187
4.6.1 Emotional dependency and cell phone as companion ..................188
4.6.2 Impact of cell phone usage on undergraduate students’ relations with their family members and friends ..................................................193
4.6.3 Impact of cell phone behaviour on undergraduate students’ social space ................................................................. 204
4.6.4 Impact of cell phone on undergraduate students’ public space behaviour ........................................................................ 209
4.6.5 Impact of Cell Phone on Communication of Undergraduate students .................................................................................. 213

4.7 Statistical Analysis .................................................................................. 224
4.7.1 Cell phone Dependency ....................................................................... 224
4.7.2 Cell phone Influence on Behavioural Pattern of Undergraduate Students .............................................................................. 225
4.7.3 Attitude of undergraduate students towards cell phone and its usage .................................................................................. 226
4.7.4 Behaviour of undergraduate students towards cell phone and its usage .............................................................................. 227
4.7.5 Overall Cell phone Dependency Score of the Undergraduate Students .................................................................................. 230

4. b) Qualitative Analysis ..............................................................................
4. a.1 Procedure of Qualitative Analysis .................................................... 231
4. a.2 Details of the persons included as samples ...................................... 232
4. a.3 Summery of the transcripts of the interviews taken for the Qualitative Analysis .............................................................. 235

Chapter 5: Discussion and Conclusion .......................................................... 253 - 325
5.1 Discussion .............................................................................................. 253
5.1.1 Quantitative Analysis ....................................................................... 253
5.1.1.1 Demographic Details .................................................................... 253
5.1.1.2 Nature of Cell phone ownership .................................................... 256
5.1.1.2.1 Age of undergraduate students at which they owned their first cell phone .......................................................... 256
5.1.1.2.2 Type of the cell phone set used by the undergraduate students ................................................................. 256

5.1.1.2.3 Number of cell phone handsets change by the undergraduate students ......................................................... 256

5.1.1.2.4 Reasons to change the cell-phone sets ........................................ 256

5.1.1.2.5 Type of the cell phone connection used by the undergraduate students ................................................................. 257

5.1.1.3 Nature of Cell Phone Usage ........................................................... 257

5.1.1.3.1 Nature of saving contact details .............................................. 257

5.1.1.3.1.1 (i) Undergraduate students’ practice of saving contact details with same/different names ................................................. 257

5.1.1.3.1.1 (ii) Reasons to save contact details with different names ........ 258

5.1.1.3.2 Nature of cell phone activity .....................................................

5.1.1.3.2.1 Frequency of cell phone activities of the undergraduate students .............................................................................. 259

5.1.1.3.2.2 Monthly expenditure on cell phone usage by the undergraduate students ....................................................... 264

5.1.1.3.2.3 Internet browsing preference ............................................. 264

5.1.1.3.2.4 Cell phone time spent pattern of the undergraduate students .............................................................................. 265

5.1.1.3.2.5 Average time spent per day on cell phone activity of the undergraduate students ...................................................... 266

5.1.1.3.2.6 Monthly money spent on cell phone activity by the undergraduate students ...................................................... 266

5.1.1.3.2.7 Keypad Usage in short messaging service option by the undergraduate students ...................................................... 267

5.1.1.4 Cell phone behaviour pattern of undergraduate students ........... 268

5.1.1.4.1 Habit of Carrying Cell-phone Set ............................................. 268

5.1.1.4.2 Reason to Use Missed Call Option by Undergraduate students .............................................................................. 268

5.1.1.4.3 Reason to use short messaging service option by undergraduate students ................................................................. 270
Chapter Index

5.1.1.4.4 Undergraduate students’ intentions to call and talk on cell phone .................................................................................272

5.1.1.5 Perceived and reported impact of cell phone usage on the behavioural pattern undergraduate students ...............................273

5.1.1.5.1 Undergraduate students’ perceived and reported impact of cell phone on their life, emotional dependency on cell phone as companion .................................................................273

5.1.1.5.2 Undergraduate students’ perceived and reported impact of cell phone on their relationship with their parents and friends ....273

5.1.1.5.3 Undergraduate students’ perceived and reported impact of cell phone on their social behaviour ......................................277

5.1.1.5.4 Undergraduate students’ perceived and reported impact of cell phone on their public behaviour ....................................278

5.1.1.5.5 Undergraduate students’ perceived and reported impact of cell phone on their routine communication behaviour ..........279

5.1.2 Qualitative Analysis .....................................................................281

5.1.3 Findings .......................................................................................289

5.2 Conclusion .......................................................................................309

5.3 Limitations of the Study .................................................................320

5.4 Scope for Future Research ..............................................................322

5.5 Utility of the Study ..........................................................................325

Chapter 6: Summary .............................................................................326 - 387

6.1. Objectives .........................................................................................326

6.2 Research Questions ...........................................................................327

6.3 Nature of Study ................................................................................327

6.4 Research Approach ..........................................................................328

6.5 Indicators Used in the Study ..............................................................329
6.6. The Method and The Tool ............................................................... 329
   6.6.1. Pre-testing ........................................................................... 329
   6.6.2. Pilot Study ........................................................................ 330
   6.6.3. Validity and Reliability test .................................................. 330
   6.6.4. Sampling Method / Scheme .................................................. 331
   6.6.5. Final sample ...................................................................... 333
   6.6.6. Digitization of data ............................................................... 333
   6.6.7. Data Analysis .................................................................... 333
6.7. Findings ..................................................................................... 334
   6.7.a) Quantitative Analysis .............................................................. 334
      6.7.a.1. Demographic Details ...................................................... 334
      6.7.a.2. Nature of Cell phone ownership .................................... 334
      6.7.a.3. Nature of Cell Phone Usage ........................................ 336
      6.7.a.4. Cell phone behaviour pattern of undergraduate students .... 342
      6.7.a.5. Perceived and reported impact of cell phone usage on the behavioural pattern undergraduate students ..................... 346
   6.7.b) Qualitative Analysis ............................................................... 353
6.8 Conclusion .................................................................................. 362
6.9 Limitations of the Study .............................................................. 382
6.10 Suggestion for Future Research .................................................. 384
6.11 Utility of the Study ................................................................. 387
