ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Today, when I am going to submit my thesis work, I am not able to express my sincere feelings for those who helped, guided and encouraged me throughout the work period. So I am in confrontation when words find themselves unable to express what one feels in the depth of one's heart.

Same situation paralysis my thought when I find no words in the literature to express my deep sense of gratitude and humble thanks to my esteemed and learned teachers.

The immense and generous help, compounded by the expert guidance and constant encouragement, extended by Dr. V.K. Misrya, M.S., Lecturer in the department of Ophthalmology, M.L.B. Medical College & Hospital, Jhansi has imbibed in me an unflagging seal for this work. His ready accessibility, even at his personal inconvenience and heartening words provided the self confidence so vital for undertaking such a project.

Words fail to express my deepest sense of gratitude to Dr. B.S. Jain, M.S., Lecturer, Department of Ophthalmology, M.L.B. Medical College & Hospital,
Jhansi for his constant and consistent help. He has been guided me and to help even at his personal inconvenience at every stage this project. His keen interest and attention in day-to-day work progress was a source of constant inspiration to me.

A feeling of sincere greatfulness overwhelms me when I consider my revered and bonevolent teacher Dr. U.D. Gupta, M.C., D.C.M.S., Head of the department of Ophthalmology, M.L.B. Medical College & Hospital, Jhansi under whose masterly guidance, fatherly attitude and lovely temperament, I had an opportunity to work. I find myself lacking when it comes to choosing adequate words to express myself.

My very respectable and sincere thanks are to Dr. B.C. Nathur, M.Sc., D.H.S., Reader in Statistics & Demography, Post Partum Programme, M.L.B. Medical College & Hospital, Jhansi for his expert statistical guidance, wise suggestions and advise regarding this work.

All of my colleagues and friends, whose co-operation and pains taking help are unaccountable, deserve a special words of thanks to Dr. Ramesh Chandra Agarwal and Dr. Shiv Kumar must be particularly mentioned here.
At this moment of glory and award I humbly accept that all credit accrued actually goes to my parents, brothers, wife and my son Lankaj. Their affection, sacrifices and patience have made all this worth while.

My heartful gratitude and thankfulness is for the patients, who were the base of this project. To all of them I have to say: without you this could not have been possible.

The entire manuscript has been typed in an exemplary manner by Sri R.B. Vishwakarma. I am highly thankful to him for his patent and untiring efforts.
