ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In the course of undertaking this research work, I have received guidance and encouragement from so many quarters that, it is not feasible to acknowledge them all, though, I must show gratitude to all those without whose help I would not have been able to complete this onerous task.

First of all, I am very thankful to the Almighty for keeping me active and courageous through divine support and encouragement to complete this work efficiently and effectively.

To make this research possible, the biggest foundation of inspiration and ethical support was laid down by my venerable guide Prof. (Dr) S.K Bansal. He gave me precious guidance at every phase of the study right from its inception till its completion and without his supervision and support it would not have been possible to complete this work. I am highly obliged to him for his continuous, painstaking, selfless and devoted guidance by sparing his precious time.

My sincere thanks are also to Dr. P.S. Gill, Professor and Head, School of Management Studies, Punjabi University Patiala for giving me kind opportunity to carry out research work efficiently. I am also very thankful to faculty and staff members of School of Management Studies for their cooperation during my research work.

I profoundly express my sincere gratitude to Dr. Sukhdev Singh, Professor and Head, Department of Business Management, Guru Nanak Dev Engineering College, Ludhiana for his honest support, saintly encouragement, valuable suggestions and frequent discussions. He always encouraged me to do the best and face the challenges with smiling face. His invaluable direction at every juncture stimulated me to higher and higher in achieving my goal.
I convey my sincere thanks to Dr. R.L. Behal, Principal, Sri Aurobindo College of Commerce and Management, Ludhiana who guided me in course of writing the thesis. I also convey my thanks to Prof. Paramjit Singh, Head, Post Graduate Department of Commerce, GGN Khalsa College, Ludhiana who also guided me for applying the financial tools for my study. I am extremely grateful to Dr. J.S. Chamak, Ex-Economist, Punjab Agriculture University, Ludhiana for his invaluable support and guidance in the area of statistical techniques.

I am indebted to the management of fertilizer companies under study who made Annual Reports of their respective companies available to me. I especially extend my heartiest thanks to Ms. Kabita Debnath Das, Deputy Chief (Documents and Information) of FAI New Delhi for cooperation regarding providing all available statistics and publications relating to Fertilizer Industry.

It would be my special pleasure to convey my appreciation to my wife Mrs. Kulwinder Kaur, my sons Gagandeep Singh and Amandeep Singh who continuously helped me during my research work.

Finally, I would like to convey my sincere and special thanks to all researchers and literature writers whom I might have missed in reference/bibliography section of present study, those who helped me directly or indirectly, because but for their help and dedication, completion of this thesis certainly would not have been possible.
