My understanding of the hospitality in the class room during my study in bachelor degree of tourism and hotel management in Al-Mustanseryah university in Iraq and Master of Tourism Administration as well as Ph.D research in Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh –India, ensured that the need result is this thesis that clearly explains hospitality and hotel concepts and its role in promotion and development of Tourism in tow countries.

Yemen as well as India are in need to improve these adult industry, and also it shows that, how the hospitality apply to real-life situations and its economic value.

Each chapter in this thesis is carefully researched and constructed, using sound hotel concepts which are illustrated with examples from the hospitality industry and with latest data of international Tourists Traffic globally and to India and Yemen.

This work contains a new hospitality trends and new factors that may hinder the growth of hospitality and hotel industry.

Further more, a new factors and programmes that my help in development and growth these sensitive industry in developing countries like India and Yemen.
Preface

In addition to very important points in lengthy questionnaire of field study in this work in comparing the efficiency of 5 star hotels of hospitality industry in India and Yemen on the latest technology design. Last but not least, the end of hard work, there should be a result. So there are a number of very important suggestions in the end of this work. In short words this work is an attempt to summarize the potential and the prospects of hospitality industry in India and Yemen and it major problems. The whole thesis is divided into six chapters: The first chapter deals with framework of the research. Whereas the second chapter highlights on the background of hotel industry, its importance, and overview on the latest conditions of world wide tourism. Theories that are relevant to research work are discussed and the chapter will give an overview of the concepts of Hotel Management and Hospitality Industry. Hotel design and its important, in according to give a clear ideal about the nature and feature of Hotel Management industry and its importance. The third chapter discussed and analyzed the hotel industry in India and Yemen and its prospects.
The fourth chapter gives the important and role of evaluation and benchmarking, some important factors of evaluation and new trends methods that should be taken in consideration. The fifth chapter is the heart of this work, it discussed and analyzed the hotel industry trends in India and Yemen, and in particular evaluation of five star hotels efficiency in India and Yemen.

The decision to evaluate hotel industry sector in India and Yemen is taken at a time when it is felt that something more should be known about how the hotel industry in India and Yemen are doing, level of its growth, the weaknesses and difficulties they face, the kind and level of hotels and support services being provided, how much foreign exchange the both countries have been received and what is the number of foreign tourist arrivals and comparing that with the size of hotel establishments and its average occupancy rate. So the evaluation provides a sufficient feedback may lead to alternative and new ways or designs in development of hotel industry in both countries, or in new planning and management techniques to achieve tourist needs. The sixth and the last chapter the conclusion and suggestions of this thesis.