X. ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am extremely grateful and deeply indebted to my research supervisor, Prof. N. Parthasarthy, Department of Ecology and Environmental Sciences, for his guidance marked by flexibility and untiring hours spent in species identification.

I greatly appreciate the University Grants Commission and the Pondicherry University for the scholarship in the last one and half years. Thanks are due to the Head of the Department for providing laboratory facilities and other administrative guidance and my doctoral committee members Prof. Vikram Reddy and Prof S. Jayachandran for timely guidance. I am also indebted to Prof. K.V Devi Prasad for his continuous help with statistics. I am grateful to Prof. S. A. Abbasi for let me conduct my soil analysis in his laboratory and Sangeevi and Anuradha for helping me with the protocol.

For species identification, thanks are due also to Dr. Narasimhan of Madras Christian College, Chennai and Dr. Ravichandran of Manonmanian Sundaran University, Tirunelveli.

This study was possible due to the cooperation extended by the Forestry Group in Auroville. In particular, I wish to thank Rita of Centre Field, Paul Blanchflower of the Auroville Botanical gardens, D. Saravanan of Aranya, Rik of Success, Aviram and Yorit of Sadhana forest, Jean and Colin from Two Banyans, Diego from Samriddhi, as well as D. Bernard and Deepika of Aurobrindavan for helping me in providing historical information of sites and giving me permission to collect data from their sites. Joss Brooks shared the information on usufruct benefits of species collected by his project at Pitchandikulam, which was very useful.

Anabarasan from our unit too helped me locate a site for the facilitation experiment. I have received seeds for the facilitation experiment and help in identifying some plant specimens from Shakti, Auroville. I am grateful to the French Institute for providing the climate data and use of its library. Pranav Walia’s timely help with BASIC and the software from Ludwig and Reynolds was necessary for the association analysis.

My friends and colleagues in our unit – L. Arul Pragasan, C. Muthumperumal, S. Mani, S. Muthuramkumar and M. Rajkumar have helped me in numerous ways. All my friends including Geeta Nayak, Vijaykumar Palavi, A.S. Anusree, Anushree Bhatachari, Susan Verghese and Sushree have helped with discussions and made this stint at the university an enjoyable experience.

Last but not least, I thank my children Daniela Tasmai and Michael Achuth for their patience and occasion help in the field. My mother has helped on many occasions. I miss my father, who was happy to see me start the program, but has since passed away. Though I mention him last, the support - financial, mental, emotional and practically (help with house and children) - from my husband Juergen Becker has been most crucial for my Ph.D. program from beginning to end.