ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

As I reach the completion of this doctoral work, I think of several special persons with gratitude. First of all, special appreciation is given to my Supervisor, Dr. S. Panneerselvam, Reader, Radhakrishnan Institute for Advanced Study in Philosophy, University of Madras, who has been very decisive in determining the entire gestalt of the thesis with his characteristic guidance, encouragement, suggestions and corrections. Thanks are in order to Prof. Dr. T.S. Devadoss, Director, RIASP, University of Madras, whose affection, understanding and support contributed greatly to the completion of this thesis. I remain also deeply grateful to my other teachers of the department for their kind support.

It is a pleasure to acknowledge my obligations to the many distinguished scholars who have read and commented on some or all of the chapters. Prof. R. Panikkar, Sushri N. Shanta, Prof. Francis X. VSSA, Prof. Dominic Veliath and Prof. Felix Wilfred. However, a special mention must be made of Sushri N. Shanta, Assistant to R. Panikkar for India, without whose thoughtful comments and patient corrections, the thesis would not have reached the present form.
forget her constant supply of study materials -- writings by and on Panikkar. I am also indebted to my friends at the department for their loving assistance during the many phases of this study-project.

Finally, I offer my gratitude to the University Grant Commission, New Delhi, for awarding me the Research Fellowship during the entire period of my research work. My thanks are also due to the authorities of the University of Madras, particularly the RIASP, for providing the required facilities for study. In this connection, the services of Mr. Abdul Nawoof and Mr. Arumugam (RIASP Library) are gratefully remembered.

Madras 600 005.
