ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the outset I wish to acknowledge the insight provided to me at the School of International Studies (SIS) in JNU for exploring a challenging area for research under the able guidance of Dr. H.S. Chopra, Associate Professor and Head of the West of the European Studies Division at the Centre for American and West European Studies. Although Dr. Chopra and I have had association in the field of international relations for several years, the exact research topic for this dissertation could be thrashed out during 1980, when I got a chance to interact directly at the SIS during my Sabbatical (Study Leave). The evaluation of the concept of interdependence has been an interesting theme, as proposed by Dr. Chopra and I have found it to be an extremely fascinating and a challenging area to study and analyse. Credit therefore goes entirely to Dr. Chopra for suggesting such a topical theme.

2. After completion of all the examinations and assignments at the SIS and after completion of the first draft of the Ph.D. thesis, I was particularly fortunate to receive the overall guidance from several luminaries in the field of international economics relations at the SIS, as well as other economists international civil servants. The field study abroad supported by the JNU for empirical research would not have been worthy of the trip but for the suggestions given by the senior professors at the SIS like Dr. K.P. Mishra, the then Dean of the SIS, Prof. M.S. Venkataramani,
Chairman and Head of the Centre for American and West European Studies, Prof. K.P. Saxena of the Centre of International Politics and Organisation, Dr. B. Vivekanandand, Dr. S.D. Muni and others. India's eminent ex-Ambassador to EEC, Dr. K.B. Lall has been a source of mature wisdom and encouragement all along, more so in the capacity of a Visiting Professor to the JNU during my sabbatical period as well as Chairman of the ICRIER (Indian Council for the search on International Economic Relations), New Delhi. Dr. K.B. Lall's successor, Ambassador P.K. Dave at Brussels (1977-81) had a particularly enlightening role for me, with his suavity and erudition displayed in his handling the EEC Commissioners at Brussels, while I deliberated, under his overall guidance, as the leader of the Indian delegation, at the Sub Commission meeting of the Indo-EEC Joint Commission. Later Ambassador Dave felt all the more happy guiding my projected (1981-82) field study tour to Brussels and other places in West Europe, while on sabbatical.

3. I owe gratitude to my ex-Secretary (Foreign Trade), later Union Commerce Secretary (and now Principal Secretary to the Prime Minister, Dr. P.C. Alexander) who enthused the academics in me while I worked under him as Director (Foreign Trade), by assigning to me extremely absorbing desks like the G.S.P., GATT, MTN's (Tokyo Round) etc. in the International Trade Policy Division, and even lateron, enquiring about my research progress, while he was the Director at the International Trade Centre, UNCTAD/GATT, Geneva. Further Dr. Arjun Sengupta, Economic Adviser and the Special Secretary to the Prime Minister also gladly suggest.
names of academicians and institutions with whom I could usefully interact in West Europe for empirical research.

4. I must also record my special gratitude to the eminent Shri E.K.Jha (Chairman of the Economic Administration Reforms Commission, New Delhi) who particularly directed me to meet Shri S.S.Ramphal, Secretary General of the Commonwealth Secretariat at London as well as Shri M.Narasimhan, India's Executive Director at the IMF in Washington, during the period of my field study for empirical research work, supported by the JNU mainly through its own funds and partly of the Ford Foundation. I was expected by my Guide Professor to hold interviews with the top academia, international civil servants and professors at Brussels, London, Geneva as well as New York and Washington. Undoubtedly therefore, I owe my debt of acknowledgement to the various research institutes, libraries and the Faculty members with whom I could interact during the field study (January to May 1982) abroad.

Persons/Institutions met/visited in Western Europe

1. Mr. C.J.Small, Dy. Secretary-General(Economic), Commonwealth Secretariat, London.
2. HE Dr. Syed Mahmud, High Commissioner, India House, London.
4. Mr. Azim Hussain (Ex-Dy Secretary General, Commonwealth Secretariat, London)
5. HE S.S.Ramphal, Secretary-General, Commonwealth Secretariat, London.
6. Prof. William Wallace, Royal Institute of International Affairs, London.
7. Dr. Ralf Dahrendorf, Director, London School of Economics, London.
9. Mr. G.Scott, Head of EEC Mission, London
10. Prof. Donald C.Watt, Professor of International History, LSE, London
11. Dr. B.Persaud, Director, Economic Affairs Division, Commonwealth Secretariat, London.
13. Dr. Robert Cassen (Contributor to Brandt Report),
   Institute of Development Studies, Sussex (England)
15. Dr. Rita Cruise O'Brien, IDS, Sussex, Brighton (England)
18. Prof. Susan Strange, Professor of International Relations, LSE, London
19. Dr. Vincent Cable, Overseas Development Institute, London
20. Ms Ann Weston, Overseas Development Institute, London
22. Dr. Eberhard Rhein, Chief of Cabinet to Vice President & Commissioner, Haferkamp (External Relations) EEC, Brussels
23. Mr. Louigi Boselli, Director, Asia Desk, EEC Commission, Brussels
24. Mr. Richard Lewis, C/O Director, Asia Desk, EEC Commission, Brussels
25. Prof. Jean Victor Louis, Adviser, National Bank of Belgium, Brussels
26. Prof. Jean Jacques Rey, Premier, La Banque Nationale de Belgique (Principal Counsellor of International Department of NBB) Brussels
27. Mr. Malcolm Subhan, Journalist, EEC Commission, Brussels
28. Mr. Giles Merritt, of the Financial Times, at Brussels.
30. Mr. Jean L. Lacroix, Cabinet Chief to Commissioner (E. Pisan) for Development Cooperation, EEC-Commission, Brussels
31. Mr. Serve Abou, Directorate General to Development, EEC-Commission, Brussels
32. Madame Marie-Jose Sain Blanquat, DG-Information, EEC Commission, Brussels
33. Mr. Eric Gaskell, Director, Bibliotheque (Library-EEC Commission) Brussels
34. Prof. Vanden Abeele, Free University, Brussels
35. Prof. Jean L. Waelbroeck, Free University (ULB) Brussels
36. Madame Vuivanovitch (Development Cooperation), EEC Commission, Brussels
37. Mr. Brian Kendall, (DG-XII) EEC Commission, Brussels
38. Ambassador S.S. Puri, Embassy of India, Brussels
39. Mr. T.S. Sahni, Adviser, India Trade Centre, Brussels
40. Mr. A.K. Varma, Adviser, India Trade Centre, Brussels
41. Mr. Om Mathur, Adviser, International Trade Centre, UNCTAD/GATT, Geneva (Camp: Brussels)
42. Mr. S.K. Bagchi, Adviser (Textiles), GATT, Geneva
43. Ambassador Venkateswaran, Embassy of India, Geneva
44. Ambassador B.L. Das, GATT, Embassy of India, Geneva
45. Mr. M.G. Mathur, Dy. Director General, GATT, Geneva
46. Mr. Van Tuinen, Director, GATT, Geneva
47. Mr. Tocker, Director, GATT, Geneva
48. Mr. Linden, Director, GATT, Geneva
49. Mr. Tulloch, Adviser, GATT, Geneva
50. Mr. Johan Galtung, UN University, Geneva
51. Mr. Gamani Correa, Secretary General, UNCTAD, Geneva
52. Mr. Jagdish Saigal, Adviser, UNCTAD, Geneva
53. Dr. Alexander Swoboda, Professor at the Graduate Institute of International Studies, Geneva
54. Dr. Onkar Narwah, Institute of Strategic Studies (Asia Division), Institute of International Studies, Geneva
55. Dr. Jan Tumblr, Economist, GATT, Geneva
56. Dr. Richard Blackhurst, Economist, GATT, Geneva
57. Mr. R.Krishnamurthi, ex-Director, Manufacturers Divn., UNCTAD, Geneva
58. Mr. Olivier Long, ex-Director General, GATT, Geneva
59. Mr. A.Rossler, Adviser, GATT, Geneva
60. Mr. M.R.Rege, Adviser, GATT, Geneva
61. Mr. Murray Gibbs, Adviser, UNCTAD, Geneva
62. Mr. Chandra Patel, Adviser, UNCTAD, Geneva
63. HE Mr. Tran Van Thinh, EEC's Ambassador to GATT/UNCTAD, Geneva
64. Dr. Surendra Patel, Director (Technology), UNCTAD, Geneva
65. Dr. Jan P.Pronk, Dy. Secretary General, UNCTAD, Geneva
66. Mr. P.Gillin, Adviser, UNCTAD, Geneva

PERSONS/INSTITUTIONS - met/visited in USA

1. John Duloy - The World Bank, Washington
2. M. Narsimhan's India's Executive Director, IMF, Washington
3. Prof. Hsuheh University of Maryland, College Park
4. Prof. Barrow, University of Maryland, College Park
5. Prof. Phillips, University of Maryland, College Park
7. Mike Lipton, World Bank, Washington
8. Library of Congress (Madison), Washington
10. Brookings (Mr. Boyant)
11. John Sewell, Overseas Development Council Washington
12. Maria Gillman, IMF, Washington
15. G. Pursell, World Bank, Washington
17. A.M. Choksi, World Bank, Washington
18. M. Pheeter, World Bank, Washington
20. Zubair Iqbal, IMF, Washington
22. C. David Finch (Director), IMF, Washington
23. Peter Miovic World Bank, Washington
24. Joel Kurtzman, UNITAR, New York
25. Prof. Jagdish Bhagwati, Columbia University, New York
26. Prof. Ronald Findlay, Columbia University, New York
27. Prof. Donald Puchala, Columbia University, New York
28. Prof. Elliot Zupnich, Head, West European Studies, Columbia University, New York
29. Ganesan, UN Centre on Transnational Corporations, New York
30. India Chamber of Commerce of America Inc., New York
5. Lastly, but not the least, I am particularly thankful to the Union Ministry of Commerce and the State Government of Maharashtra who thought it fit to allow me the study leave, in public interest. My special gratitude, therefore, is to the then Commerce Secretary Shri P.K. Kaul (and now Union Finance Secretary) and also Maharashtra's illustrious Chief Secretary, Shri R.D. Pradhan, who has encouraged completion of this Ph.D. dissertation, even though I have had to resume duties after the Sabbatical, as Maharashtra's Special Commissioner at New Delhi in late 1982.

27th December 1983
New Delhi.

(SADA SHANKAR SAXENA)