Acknowledgements

Accomplishment of even a small piece of work is possible only with the sincerest enlightenment of the path by the “MASTER” of the STATE OF ART”.

At this moment I remain indebted to “ALMIGHTY ALLAH” the one universal being who enlightened my life with the light of knowledge and provided me a workplace like Integral University along with a great number of supportive people whose contribution in assorted ways led to the successful completion of my research work.

“People are our most important resource and if the people we work with can become our friends, they would be with us even in hell ……….. helping us taste success.”

This Thesis is an outcome of direct and indirect contributions of several people, supplemented by my own humble efforts. I take this opportunity to mention specially some of them and extend my gratefulness to other wishers, known and unknown.

The Person who deserves a First and Foremost mention is my FATHER, my inspiration. His strong belief in my abilities and moral support uplifted my spirits and I just moved on. Without his encouragement I would have never imagined to achieve this height in my career.

“A supervisor is the person who can be considered as the parent of a research scholar in his professional life.”

I owe my most sincere gratitude to my Supervisor, Dr. Mohd. Zeeshan, Assistant Prof., Department of Microbiology, Integral University, for his everlasting support in all aspects of this research work. His deep knowledge and expertise has never let me in doubt and confusion about any aspect of my research. I am extremely indebted to him for the scientific skills he has installed in me which will definitely stand in all my future endeavors. His understanding, extraordinarily logical and practical way of thinking and personal guidance has been the guiding light for my innovative thesis work. With a person with his experiences and foresightedness, I was made to learn and grow as a researcher. Moreover, his caring, thoughtful, and hassle free attitude helped me to gain maximum.
“Giving acknowledgement in mere words is never enough to thank the people who played significant role to shape up the ways for you and to become what you want.”

I am deeply indebted to my co-supervisor Prof. (Dr.) Jamal M. Arif, (Consultant to the Vice Rector and Head, Department of Biochemistry, College of Medicine, University of Hail, Saudi Arabia and Ex-Head, Department of Biotechnology, Microbiology and Bioinformatics, Integral University, Lucknow, India), for his supervision, skilful guidance, scholarly advice, suggestive criticism, encouragement and support throughout my research and thesis writing. Dr. Jamal challenged me to set my benchmark even higher and to look for solutions to problems rather than focus on the problem. I learned to believe in my future work and myself. I cannot forget his never ending energetic attitude that made me work all the more without getting tired even for a moment and for all the things he did for me to gain maximum during the entire period from the inception of the hypothesis till completion of Lab work and finally preparation of the thesis of my research. His vivid knowledge, extraordinary technical expertise has contributed enormously to give the thesis its present shape. Thanks a lot Sir for everything. I can never dare to forget his help and cooperation.

The family members of both my Supervisor and co supervisor deserve a mention for their cooperation and patience while we were involved in discussions at their homes. I thank them all for providing a home away from home.

A special mention must go to Dr. Iqbal Ahmad, Dy. Director (I.I.T.R.) Lucknow for help in carrying out metal uptake studies. I would also like to specially thank and appreciate the guidance extended to me by Mr. Abdul Haseeb, PhD scholar, Membrane Biology laboratory, SLS, JNU, New Delhi in protein gel documentation studies.

I wish to express my warm and sincere thanks to Prof. S.W. Akhtar, Vice-Chancellor, Integral University, Lucknow for his encouragement and allowing me to avail the essential infrastructure and library facilities. All the youngsters should try to inculcate the dynamism which is reflected from his personality.
I also express my sincere thanks to the Chief Academic Consultant Prof. S.M. Iqbal for his motivation. His keen interest and willingness to know about the varied dimensions of every branch of science should be admired.

My warm regards also goes to Pro-Vice Chancellor Prof. T.A. Usmani, Dr. I.A. Khan, Registrar, Integral University; Controller of Examination and Dean (Faculty of Applied Science) Dr. Qazi Shoaiib. Special thanks are due to Dy. Registrar (Academic) Mr. Ghufran Ahmad and Mr. Yusuf Kidwai for all the help and administrative support they provided me during my entire research. Mr. Sufiyan Abbasi, Procurement officer, Integral university is especially acknowledged for purchase of chemicals, instruments and for providing other essential facilities to the research scholars on time which never let our work suffer.

The environment in which we work has its own importance and so acknowledgements are owed to all the “Teaching and Technical Staff” of the Department of Biotechnology, Microbiology and Bioinformatics, Integral University, led by Prof. (Dr.) A.K. Srivastava, Head of the Department. I fall short of words to express my sense of gratitude and indebtedness for the care, love, support and motivation that they had given to me continuously during my entire tenure of research. Dr. Saheem deserve a special mention for his help to carry out DNA fluorescence study at A.M.U., Aligarh and Mr. Shadif for his assistance in formatting the thesis.

This episode of acknowledgement would not be completed without mentioning my lab mates and friends whose selfless efforts and support had given me strength to finish this work. In one sense all of these people acted as more than a catalyst. I am very fortunate to have friends and labmates like Shazia, Deboshree, Danish and Sumaiya who were always there for me during all the ups and downs of my Ph.D. Career. They helped me in all ways and always. I am also thankful to my friend, Shweta who is working as SRF in NBRI for readily providing me the full text of the research papers whenever asked for. You really made my thesis writing easy. I would like to thank Kamlesh and Kavindra for being my co-helpers and more so my buddies. Their support, encouragement, and companionship turned my journey into a pleasure. I will never ever forget all the efforts put in, just to make me smile.
“A woman can never be successful in her career without the constant support of her family members.”

This thesis can’t be complete without mentioning my family. No words are enough to express my endless love and gratitude to all of them. Their blessings and prayers for my success had made me what I am today and always gave me more than what I deserved.

I am really indebted to ALMIGHTY ALLAH for not only giving me such loving and caring parents but also extraordinarily supportive in laws and a very special life long friend, My Husband, Mohd. Haris Siddiqui. Thank you for being my pillar of strength. I can never forget your jovial pranks which made me smile and come out of the blue mood soon. Mummy, my moral support and my best companion in my tough times, you would be the happiest person to see this moment in my life. Special thanks are also due to my mother in law, Mrs. Parveen Fatima for keeping me away from household affairs during the entire period of thesis writing. Most heartfelt thank-you goes to my brothers Farhan and Faizan for always being there when I needed them the most, and never once complaining about anything or any task I gave them to do, they deserve far more credit than I can ever give them. My cousins Mantasha, Kehkasha and Anas also deserve a mention. Their happy-go-lucky nature and enthusiasm at the fag end of my Ph.D., when one is low on energy and will-power, gave me the final booster to finish this work with a positive attitude. Finally, I would like to thank all my well-wishers and fellows who have helped me directly or indirectly in carving out the masterpiece of this thesis as well as expressing my apology for not able to mention everyone personally.

Any life, no matter how long and complex it may be, is made up of a single moment – the moment in which a man finds out, once and for all, who he is
