Acknowledgment

I would like to express my sincerest gratitude to my supervisor Professor Kunal Chattopadhyay, Head of the Department of Comparative Literature (formerly in the Department of History) of Jadavpur University for his guidance and invaluable suggestions and moral support which had helped me immensely in completing my thesis. The discussions which I had with him and the inputs, which he gave me, have been the building blocks of my work.

During my short visits to USA in 2006 and 2008, prior to registration of my name and title of the present thesis with Jadavpur University in March 2009, I had held discussions with Dr. Paul Forman, Curator of the Division of Medicine and Science, National Museum of American History, Smithsonian Institution, Dr. Babak Ashrafi, Associate Historian, Center for History of Physics, American Institute of Physics and Prof. Robert Friedel, Department of History, University of Maryland on various aspects on the chosen topic of my thesis. I am grateful to all of them for their interactions, which helped me to a great extent to outline the plan of action for the present study.

I sincerely thank Ms Karen Lee, Curator, National Museum of American History, Smithsonian Institution for helping me to procure many rare and valuable books from USA for my study.

The work that culminates now was initiated some twenty-five years ago. At no stage during this period, I received any financial support to carry out the work. It is my wife Mrs. Mita Sthanapati, who curtailed her household budget to support my work and always inspired me to reach my goal. I wholeheartedly acknowledge her contribution.
