

PREFACE

P R E F A C E.

I am indebted to the critical and biographical writings of several authors, whose work has provided invaluable guidance and stimulation. The extent of this indebtedness is duly acknowledged in the Bibliography at the end of the thesis. My gratitude is due to Dr.B.R.Soni of the Dayanand College, Sholapur, who as mentor and guide through many years of academic association has evinced keen interest in his student's progress towards research work. To Professor Abdul Karim, I owe his major debt of gratitude for his interest in the study. He had directed the original study, offering many rewarding insights and encouragement. I thank also Principal T.Barnabas of Ahmednagar College, Ahmednagar for his constant encouragement. Finally, the works to which I am indebted are Kadan Gopal's "Munshi Premchand", G.W.Allport's "Personality: A Psychological Interpretation", F.L.Lucas's "Literature and Psychology", H.Read's "English Prose Style", W.B.Pitkin's "Short Story Writing", R.S.Woodworth's "Contemporary Schools of Psychology", Leon Edel's "The Psychological Novel", Dr.Devaraj Upadhyaya's "Aadhunik Hindi Katha Sahitya aur Manovigyan", S.A.B.Suhrawardy's "A Critical Survey of the Development of the Urdu Novel and Short Story" and Dr.Laxmi Narayan Lal's "Hindi Kahaniyon ki Shilpvidhi kaa Vikas".
