INDEX.

Preface. ........

CHAPTER I.

INTRODUCTION.

1. The nature of the research problem and the need of enquiry. 1-18.
2. The method of research. 18-25.
4. Whether life has a meaning. 34-52.

CHAPTER II.

PSYCHOLOGICAL APPROACH TOWARDS DEATH.

1. Instincts - Various views. 53-59.
2. Fear and dread of Death. 60-73.
3. Common man's reaction towards death. 73-90.

CHAPTER III.

RELIGIOUS APPROACH TOWARDS DEATH.

2. Psychological constituents of religion. 138-143.
3. Fear and thought of death are the main sources of religion. 143-147.
4. A survey of the main religions showing their concern with death. 147-180.
6. Real function of religion. 192-204.
CHAPTER IV

PHILOSOPHICAL APPROACH TOWARDS DEATH.

1. What is philosophy.
3. Major philosophical systems and their concern with death.
4. Great individual thinkers, saints and their approach towards death.
5. Existentialism and the phenomenon of death.
6. Theosophical approach towards death.
7. The concept of time and the phenomenon of death.
8. Philosophical significance of death.

CHAPTER V

DEATH AND THE PROBLEM OF VALUES.

1. Introduction. The nature and types of value. The criteria of value.
2. Philosophical view of value.
3. Religious concept of values with special reference to Indian thought.
4. Science, evolution and value.
5. Life, Death and Values.

CHAPTER VI

DEATH AND THE CONCEPT OF GOD.

1. Introduction.
2. Death: Evolution and God.
3. Is God the supreme value?
4. Death, God and Mysticism.
CHAPTER VI (Contd).

5. Death, God and the problem of evil. 361-373.

CHAPTER VII.

DEATH AND HUMAN BONDAGE AND LIBERATION WITH REFERENCE TO THE CONCEPT OF IMMORTALITY.

1. Psychological analysis of the concept of bondage. 381-391.
3. Idealistic concept of liberation. 397-401.
4. Indian philosophical systems and the concept of liberation and immortality. 401-427.
5. Concept of salvation in Islam and Christianity. 428-433.

CHAPTER VIII

CONCLUSION.

1. Death is inevitable and a mystery. 467-475.
2. Fear of death is ignorance. 475-480.
3. There is need to be truly religious. 480-488.
4. Philosophy is a meditation on death. 488-493.
7. Death-consciousness is liberation. 505-511.
CHAPTER VIII (contd.).

8. Consciousness of death gives rise to spontaneous morality. 511-516.

9. To understand death is to understand life. 516-524.