“Whoever does not give thanks to the people does not give thanks to Allah.”

(Prophet Muhammad)\textsuperscript{PBUH}

My journey to this end started some three and a half years back and until now I have come across a galaxy of people to whom I owe my deep sense of gratitude and honour. Though, it is quite elusive to describe all such wonderful memories of people stashed deep down my heart and share the same with justice they deserve for devotion, I take the opportunity with utmost humility to recount their earnest attachments and extend my sincere thanks and gratitude to them.

First and foremost, I thank Aligarh Muslim University in general and Department of Commerce in particular for providing all the necessary facilities, equipment, environment and accommodations to enable me complete this research successfully. Special thanks are due to Prof. Nawab Ali Khan (Dean, Faculty of Commerce), Prof. Muhammad Mohsin Khan (Former Dean, Faculty of Commerce), Prof. Javed Alam Khan (Chairman, Department of Commerce), and Prof. Sibgatullah Farooqui (Former Chairman, Department of Commerce) for their appreciation, support and determination to create an enabling and facilitative environment for research at the department. I also thank the authorities at Viqar-ul-Mulk Hall for making my stay at the hostel comfortable.

I proudly put on record my profound sense of indebtedness to my supervisor Prof. M. Ashraf Ali for his pains-taking efforts, valuable suggestions, meticulous supervision, everlasting motivation and constructive criticism during the course of my research. The knowledge and the expertise he masters at, has really been a blessing for me. Besides, the humble nature and blissful attitude he owns, is simply, an out of the world gesture and a noble gift from God. I feel highly revered to have pursued my Ph. D. under his worthy supervision.

I would like to appreciate library staff Maulana Azad Library AMU, Book Bank JNMC AMU, Seminar Incharge, Department of Commerce AMU, and the whole non-teaching staff, Faculty of Commerce AMU especially; Ali Bia, Anees Bia, Kazim Bia, Aslam Bia, Akram Bia, Salman Bia, Abdullah Bia, Iqbal Bia, Hafiz Bia, and others for the services, respect, care and commitment they rendered day in and day out during the period of my research. My thanks are also due to Dr. Hilal
(Assistant Librarian, Allama Iqbal Library University of Kashmir) for his unconditional support and assistance during my visit to his university.

I am highly obliged to Dr. Sheema Tarab (Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce, AMU), Dr. Ashiq Hussain (Research Associate, IIM Ahmadabad), Dr. Adil Amin and Dr. Zuhair Ahmad Bazaz (Guest faculties, Department of Higher Education, J&K) for their valuable inputs, suggestions and guidance throughout this unique academic learning raga.

I feel honoured to have cherished the company of some extra-ordinary and highly knowledgeable peers like Dr. Javaid Ahmad Bhat, Dr. Showkat Ahmad Dar, Dr. Imam Ashraf, Dr. Azam Malik, Mr. Mushtaq Ahmad, Mr. Shafat Maqbool, Mr. Zubair Sofi, Mrs. Saleena EC, Miss Aayat Fatima, Miss Yusra Majid, Mr. Sarfaraz Javed, Mr. Adee, Mr. As’ad, Mr. Nayar Rehman, Mr. Asif Parvez, Mr. Mehraj-ud-Din, Mr. Hameedullah Mir, and many more during this research. Their presence has really made my journey easy.

I warmly thank Dr. Aabida Khan colleague and a friend from University of Kashmir, Mr. Aarif Ahmad my roommate and a fellow researcher at Department of Commerce, AMU and Mr. Sajid Shafia noble soul and a well-wisher for their congenial attitude in taking pains to read and review few chapters of my thesis.

Words fail to record my cordial gratification to a long time friend and colleague Mr. Ishfaq Ahmad (Senior Research Fellow, Department of Commerce, AMU) for his remarkable support and consistent guidance during all ups and downs of this research. I also thank few of my bosom buddies Muzaffar, Younis, Zahid, Firdous, Shaiq, Irtiq, Faheem, Riyaz, Muzamil, Imran and Sameer for supporting and encouraging me with their best wishes. Their presence has truly made me realize that “when the going gets tough, the tough gets going”. I feel highly blessed having them in my life.

Last but not the least; I owe everything what I have to my family. It is impossible to reckon their incessant good wishes, selfless support and sacrifices that I could complete my research successfully. I take great prestige in recalling my father (Late Gh Nabi Sheikh) who has always been an inspiration for me. Although, I can’t find him with eyes but I always see him in my ideas. He taught me the most important lesson of life that goodness can never be defied and good human beings can never be denied. I pray for his eternal peace and blessings. I see the glory of my success in the eyes of my mother (Taj-un-Nisa Sheikh) for all the pains she suffered to see me here.
I thank her for sharing my emotional and mental sufferings and reducing my anxiety with loving pats on my back. Appreciation is also due to my sisters Sheikh Raashida Jabeen and Sheikh Rehana Qounsar who offered their unconditional love and selfless support with great ardour and fervour. I am highly indebted to my loving brothers Sheikh Irfan-ul-Haq and Er. Sheikh Miftah for their invaluable support both emotionally as well as financially, during the course of my research. I would also like to extend my love to my cute and sweet kins; Zoya, Soliha, Zainy and Ibaad for their presence, has made my life a blessing.

To conclude, this whole academic accomplishment is the benevolence of grace and mercy from Almighty Allah and the outcome of good wishes by my friends and family for which I shall remain highly thankful the rest of my life.
