LIST OF TABLES

Table 2.1: Illustration of concepts of terms used in research ............ 36
Table 3.1: Number of questionnaires administered and returned.......99
Table 4.1: Number and percentage of student's code-mixing of English in Thai classified into the degree of mixing ................. 109
Table 4.2: Number and percentage of students' code-mixing of English in Thai classified into the elements by grammatical category................................. 110
Table 4.3: Number and percentage of students' code-mixing classified into appearance or availability in Thai dictionaries...... 111
Table 4.4: Number and percentage of students' code-mixing classified into equivalents in the Thai language......................... 111
Table 4.5: Number and percentage of students' code-mixing classified into the function of code-mixing.......................... 112
Table 4.6: Number and percentage of student's code-mixing classified into the use in the form of Thai style......................... 114
Table 4.7: Number and percentage of students who responded to the questionnaire: sex .............................................. 118
Table 4.8: Number and percentage of students who responded to the questionnaire: age .............................................. 119
Table 4.9: Number and percentage of students who responded to the questionnaire: education ........................................ 119
Table 4.10: Number and percentage of students classified as possessing the ability in English communication, average and standard deviation. .................................................. 120

Table 4.11: Number and percentage of students classified into the quantity in reading English newspaper, average and standard deviation .................................................. 121

Table 4.12: Number and percentage of students classified into the quantity in listening to the radio in English, average and standard deviation .............................................. 122

Table 4.13: Number and percentage of students classified into the quantity in watching television in English, average and standard deviation .............................................. 123

Table 4.14: Number and percentage of students who use code-mixing in daily life, average and standard deviation ................................. 124

Table 4.15: Attitudinal average of students towards the people who use code-mixing of English in Thai (Both positive and negative) .............................................. 125

Table 4.16: The t-test result of the difference between averages of students’ attitude towards those who speak Thai mixed with English (Both positive and negative) ................. 126

Table 4.17: Number and percentage of students’ opinion towards the suitability for the use of code-mixing in the media, average and standard deviation .............................................. 127

XVI
Table 4.18: Number and percentage of students’ opinion towards the suitability for the use of code-mixing in daily life of themselves, average and standard deviation……………… 128

Table 4.19: Regression analysis in students’ code-mixing……………… 129

Table 4.20: Number and percentage of students’ comment on the cause or motivation of code-mixing…………………………………… 131

Table 4.21: Number and percentage of students’ comment on the cause or motivation of other people’s code-mixing……………… 135