Acknowledgements

While writing this thesis I have received immense help from a number of sources. I am deeply grateful to my supervisor Professor Amlan Dasgupta. Apart from his critical inputs and vigilant corrections he brought enthusiasm and discipline in my effort. Working with him has been a process of education and enjoyment. Late Professor Bikash Chakrabarty, Visva-Bharati, was like a beacon of knowledge and inspiration. I am deeply grieved that he could not see his student complete his research.

My colleagues at Visva-Bharati have helped me time and again with books, suggestions and encouragement. I am especially grateful to Saurav Dasthakur, Swati Ganguly and Amrit Sen for their thoughtful suggestions and kind help. Professor Somdatta Mandal, and Professor Indrani Das were always vigilant and made sure I finished the job on hand. I extend my heart-felt gratitude to the university administration and the Registrar, Visva-Bharati, for granting me ‘Study Leave’ during the course of my research.

The staff members at National Library, Kolkata, Ramakrishna Mission Institute of Culture, Kolkata, Central Library, Visva-Bharati and Rabindra Bhavana Archive, Santiniketan were extremely cooperative. I am immensely benefitted by URL’s like Project Muse and JSTOR. Visva-Bharati provided me an access to such vast and immensely rich resources.

I gratefully acknowledge the help extended by many of my students. Discussions with them led me to revise many of my ideas. Parantap Chakrabarty and Arkajit Mandal have helped me with computer trouble-shooting and final formatting. They deserve special mention.

My parents, especially my father, have been a pillar of support during the period of my research. The sad demise of my father robbed me off the guidance which was instrumental in all my academic pursuits. Sujit Kumar Mandal, Department of Comparative literature, Jadavpur University and Sanghamitra Das, Department of Zoology, Bolpur College, have played the role of family members in my life; in more ways than one. They believed in me and extended their whole-hearted support every time, during my research, I hit a rough patch. Thanking them would be a mere formality. Rohitaswa, my son, was there by my side all along. I owe him apologies for, during my research, I could not give him as much of time and attention as I should have.
