Acknowledgements

The last eight years spent in JNU was hardly an easy phase in my life. However, it was the support and affection of several people that have sustained me till this point of submission of the thesis. Let me express my heartfelt gratitude to all of them.

Dhruv, I thank you for everything: for being more a wonderful friend than a 'supervisor', while never compromising on academic standards. I am grateful for your unabated patience in grooming me and disciplining me in the Science and Technology Studies. Attending your classes was an enlightening experience. Thanks are also due for closely reading many drafts of the thesis while you were away and physically unwell. Thank you very much for holding me close to your heart.

My sincere thanks to Dr. Rajeswari S. Raina and Abou, for the wonderful moments you shared with me at D7/7246.

Many persons showed great enthusiasm and patience in listening to my poor theoretical formulations and naïve arguments. The comments and suggestions of Dr. Helene E. Longino, Dr. Nasir Tyabji, Dr. George Zachariah and Mr. Sarosh Koshy were very much helpful at various stages of my research. The long and often heated discussions with Mathew, George and Biswanath helped me realise the weaknesses of my own understanding of the research problem. The insights from the courses offered by Dr. Mary E. John (Women’s Movements and Gender Studies), Dr. Niraja Gopal Jayal (Politics of Ecology) and Dr. Neeladri Bhattacharya (Historical Method) were invaluable. The Bandar (A Left Collective for Kerala Studies) sessions of discussion and collective reading had a deep influence on my research. Earlier drafts of my thesis have been read and commented by many friends. The reading of an earlier draft by Rachel, Sreejith and Arathi as a group was immensely helpful in revising it before sending to Dhruv. Uma, let me express my sincere gratitude for your skillful copyediting.

I thank all the faculty members and staff of the ZHCES. Prof. Deepak Kumar was always a 'guardian angel' to approach for advice and help. He was extremely helpful especially during the thesis submission. I thank Prof. Geetha B. Nambissan (Chairperson), Dr. Saumen Chattopadhyay, Dr. Minati Panda, Prof. A.K. Mohanty, Dr. S. Srinivasa Rao, and Prof. Binod Khadria for intellectual support and help. Thanks are also due to Sneha, Dr. Ghani and Rajender for all the office assistance.

I am thankful to the AKG Centre Library (Thiruvananthapuram) for offering me its wonderful collection of newspapers and magazines. Com. Andalattu (librarian), Ms. Girija and Ms. Komalam (asst. librarians) were always very much helpful. Special thanks to com. P.V. Aniyan for introducing me to the library. The scientists, journalists and activists whom I interviewed were highly cooperative and enthusiastically responded to my queries. Without their help, this research would have been impossible. My stay at the SCM centre, Thiruvananthapuram during fieldwork was at ease due to the companionship of Dasettan, Josettan, Sajini, Maya, Pratheesh, Subin, Sonia, Philip, Jehat, Santhoshchachen, John Kurien, Biji and Jain. Thanks a lot, dear friends.
I also extend my deep gratitude to the librarians and staff of the Central Library of JNU and the libraries of ZHCES, Centre for Studies in Science Policy, Exim Bank library and Centre for Law and Governance. The NISTADS library, TMAMR&OC library (Kottayam), Pennamma Bhavanam library (Thiruvalla), and JDV Library (Pune) also were very helpful.

Alila, Biswanath and Saroj, you were great fellow travellers and my dearest ones. Mobene, Neelakshi, Purabhi, Sivakorn and Theerthakar were wonderful colleagues. Madhulika, Priya, Shalini, Zanzini, Felicita, Seyd, Maneesh, Chetan and Sanjay were my good friends at the centre. Let me thank all of you for the nice days we spent together.

It was the company of a handful of amazing friends who made my days in the campus a memorable experience. Among them Anup, Rosmin, Sheebachechi, Rekhachechi, Rajeev Sharma, Rupa, Sarita, Retheesh, Ajitha, Burton, Krishnan, Ancish, Satheesh, Abhilash (CHS), Dawson, Nila, Subin, Vinod, Sobin, Oommen, Pramod, Santhosh, Jafar, Liakhath, Nabeel, Uma, Bindu, Hameed, Shakur, Leela, and Ajayan deserve special mention. I relish the memory of being in the 'mallu gang' in the Brahmaputra hostel; thanks to the company of Abhilash Babu, Abhilash, Anish, Asif, Biju (Paippura), Biju, Chandran, Cyril, George, Gilbert, Happy, Javid, Jayan, Joshi, Justin, Liju, Mathew, Mohananchettan, Mubarak, Munee, Nofal, Prasanth, Rajeevan, Rajesh, Saji, Samkutty, Sasi, Satheesan, Sebastian, Shibu, Sunil Babu, Sunil Kumar, Tinu, Umesh, Vijith, Vinayan, and Vineeth. Among non-Keralite friends, the names of Abdi, Arvind, Guna, Karmegham, Mudri, Nagendra, Rajmohan, Sachin (CSR), Shailesh, Shekhar, Shreavan, and Venkitesh are unforgettable. Prem was so helpful during my stay at the hostel.

Sreejith, Arathi, Ameet, Preema, Rachel, Sachin, Saleena, Shahina, Rajeev and Anpu, the friends who roost at 18 old Mahanadi, made the last two years eventful. How can I ever forget the night-long dinner parties and discussions we have had?

I thank Amma, Pappa, Liju and Julie for holding me close to their hearts. My Delhi life would have been miserable without the care and affection of Monachachen, Prabhachechi, Tibi, Tina, Babykuttychachen, Kochumol auntie, Ancy, Anup, Joychachen, Jomol auntie, Bob and Ashley. Thanks to all.

Dear Anshichechi, Prakashchachen, Saroshchachen, Siby, Biju, Sreeji and Sam Koshy, thank you for being with me always. Arathi, I do not want to embarrass you!
