ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This study about India and Japan was supervised by Professor (present-day, Professor Emeritus) Dr. Yogendra Singh. Throughout the course of this study, he was a very patient and inspiring supervisor apart from being a great source of encouragement and support to me. I cannot thank Professor Emeritus Yogendra Singh enough for letting me conduct this peculiar and unprecedented research autonomically. It is a privilege and matter of pride under his guidance.

I am also most grateful to Professor, Dr. Anand Kumar for his valuable and immense help in this work.

I must express my sincere gratitude to the late Professor Emeritus, Dr. Satya Bhushan Verma of Jawaharlal Nehru University for his establishing my first relations to J.N.U. and for his encouragement.
I am extremely grateful to Professor Dr. Lokesh Chandra, Member of Parliament 1974-1986 for his constant encouragement.

I express my grateful thanks to Dr. I.S. Gilada, a doctor and secretary general of PHO (Peoples Health Organization [India]), (formerly honorary secretary of IHO [Indian Health Organization]) for the study in Mumbai.

I must also express my sincere gratitude to Mr. Khairati Lal Bhola for his assistance during my research in Delhi.

My profound gratitude to the late Mrs. Sarla Mudgal, who was an earnest social worker for her immense help. I accompanied her social work many times.

I am specially indebted to Mrs. Jamila Verghese, the author of the first book concerning the dowry problem in India for her generosity to introduce me the late Mrs. Sarla Mudgal and Prof. Rajput, Convenor, India Women’s Watch & South Asia Women’s Watch, with whom I could have a frank exchange of views in the conference of the United Nations, New York in 2005.

I also wish to express my sincere gratitude to Mrs. Jyostna Chatterji of Joint Women’s Program for her assistance during data collection.

My profound gratitude to Dr. Syeda Hameed, Member, Planning Commission, Government of India (formerly, Member, National Commission for Women, Government of India) for arousing my interest in the Bedias.

My thank, Mr. Shinichiro Shibuya, the Chief Director of Kagurazaka Association and Owner of Ryotei (Japanese restaurant) Chigetsu for his introducing the world of Geisha in Kagurazaka to me.
My sincere thanks to my 267 Japanese university students for answering my questionnaire about Enjo kosai (the prostitution of teenage girls in Japan).

I must also express my sincere gratitude to all women who had me narrate about their lives and experiences.
