ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Acknowledgement is meant to express ones gratitude and thankfulness but ends up in limiting the immense sense of gratitude and gratefulness into limited words. Words have not been as betraying as during acknowledging my emotion and heartfelt gratitude to those who have shaped the final outcome of my thesis. From the day I learned the first letter of my life till today when I completed my thesis, I have many to whom I am indebted to and would like to say thank you, shukria, jazakallah.

Language and culture has always fascinated me and academically I was groomed in it as a student of Arabic language in JNU and then in the Centre for West Asian and African Studies in JNU. The exposition of West Asia in JNU took me to the region where I learned another Semitic language – Hebrew in the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. During my stay in Israel I developed interest in Hebrew, learned it and started exploring its various aspects.

My stay at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem had provided me the starting point. Furthermore the knowledge of Hebrew language which I studied at Rothberg International School was helpful in utilizing Hebrew sources. Many of the debates in Hebrew literature have not yet been rendered into English. I am thankful to my Hebrew teachers for providing me the necessary knowledge and insight into the language that prepared me for undertaking this topic of research.

This crude idea was not enough to undertake an academic research. Right from day one when I was struggling to write a synopsis and give shape to the ideas I had in mind, till the last day when I completed writing my thesis I found my supervisor Prof. Prakash C. Jain guiding, inspiring and organizing my intellectual capacity. I would like to express my deepest sense of gratitude to him for rendered constant help and invaluable guidance throughout. He has been a source of great inspiration throughout this work and I benefitted a lot from his extensive and highly esteemed scholarship. I feel gratified to him that because of his frequent display of consideration and magnanimity that I could finish my work against all odds. His remarkable patience towards his students is a known fact but grooming me ever since my M. Phil days must have been one of the most difficult tasks for him. I owe him a lot.
My acknowledgements are also due to all the faculty members of the Centre for West Asian Studies of JNU, particularly Prof. Girijesh Pant, Prof. Gulshan Dietl, Prof. A.K. Pasha, Dr. P.R. Kumaraswamy, Dr. Ashwani K. Mahapatra, Dr. Bansidhar Pradhan, Dr. Seema Vaidhya who provided constant academic, professional and moral support throughout my research in the university. I am grateful to Prof. Girijesh Pant for facilitating and helping my trip to Israel which made a big change in my academic sense. Special thanks to Dr. Kumaraswamy for providing me valuable suggestions and guidelines during this period of research.

My special thanks are due to the faculty members of the Centre of Arabic and African Studies, JNU, particularly Prof. Ahsanur Rahman, Prof. F.U. Farooqui, Prof. Aslam Islahi, Dr. Basheer Ahmad, Dr. Rizwanur Rahman and Dr. Mujeebur Rahman for their intellectual guidance, moral support and encouragement. I am specially grateful to Dr. Rizwan for providing me all the help, intellectual and otherwise and his constant reminder of meeting the deadlines.

I would like to thank the staff members of JNU Library, Dr. Zakir Hussain Library, Jamia Millia Islamia, Sapru House Library, Delhi University Library, Hebrew University Library, Jerusalem, Haifa University Library and Tel Aviv University Library.

My deepest regards to my beloved parents, sisters and brothers to whom I owe so much. No form of expression can realize my indebtness to them. Special thanks to my wife and my little daughter Alina who would wait till late in the night for me to return from the library.

To my friends who were concerned throughout...thanks a lot. Dear friends Ginu, Moosa, Khairi, Azhar bhai, Sushil ji, Tabs, Hari, Anat, Dinesh ji, Gabi, Yonathan, Dario, Yaron and Sharon from the Israeli embassy, I am really thankful to you all.

Sorry to those who I cannot name here but I do thank you. Your contribution was equally important for me. Thanks.

I owe the responsibility for all the errors and shortcomings in this work.
