I offer deepest sense of gratitude and affection to my husband Dipankar who allowed me to keep my moral high and to maintain dynamism through all smoothed and prickled situations of life round the clock synchronized with its every tick-tick. Moreover, it is my Parents for whom I could stand here today. They planted the seed of taking higher studies in my mind from my childhood. They encouraged me to high and showed me the bigger world. This thesis is an effort to visualize one of their dreams. And there is always my brother's emotional support as the backbone. I pray for long, healthy and prosperous life.
