

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Although this section of the dissertation may seem to be a structural necessity, it embodies the history of the growth of this research project and therefore, has a very personal value for me. The people thanked here have directly or indirectly motivated me to complete this dissertation, as also many more whose names may have escaped my memory.

I begin by remembering and thanking my guide Dr Ramesh Dnyate, whose unflinching faith in my ability and consistent guidance steered this dissertation to its completion. His profound interest in my topic and insightful comments helped me a lot. I also wish to thank his family, Mrs Dnyate, Abhishek and Abhiruchi, who played warm hosts to me during my several visits to his house.

I must make a special mention of Dr Sarala Barnabas for her keen interest in my research and a personal concern for my success. Rev. Joseph Barnabas can never be adequately thanked in words for his affection, goodwill and fatherly care, yet I make a modest attempt to express my gratitude to him. I am grateful to Dr A.G.Bansode, Principal and Dr R.J. Barnabas, Vice-Principal, Ahmednagar College, Ahmednagar, for their co-operative approach and an encouraging attitude, which boosted my morale. Joy Thomas and D. Samuel deserve my thanks for maintaining my service record during my absence on account of being on UGC teacher fellowship. I wish to thank my colleagues at Ahmednagar college, particularly Dr's/Prof's: Grace Jacob, Simon Bernabas, Kanth, Kamalakar, Sringar, Ullas, D.A.Jadhav, V.M.Harpale, Ram Darade, Somwanshi and many others, for their keen interest in the progress of my research work.

At the University Department of English, where I carried out my research, I received unstinted academic guidance from all faculty members, I thank them all: Dr. S.B.Gokhale, Dr P.K.Sinha, Dr R.Raj Rao, Dr B.S.Korde, Dr Aniket Jaaware and Ms Vaishali Pradhan. Similarly, my thanks are due to Mrs D'souza, Mrs Kale and Asole. I would also like to express my very warm thanks to my fellow researchers: Anand, Saleem, Anjali, P.T.Ronge, Thanage, Jarange, N.N.Patil, Chaskar, Bawake and Ghanwat. My very special thanks are due to Mohini, who spared her valuable time to collect some material for me.

Dr Ashok Thorat, Dean, faculty of Arts and Fine Arts, University of Pune, deserves my sincere gratitude for his constant motivation and encouragement to complete my dissertation. I learnt a great deal from him regarding the appropriate approach to writing a dissertation. Above all, his very personal and unconditional love kept me in high spirits during the prosaic moments of my research. I also wish to thank Dr B.S.Valke, Chairman, Board of Studies in English, for his experienced consultancy on various aspects of research, which helped me bridge the gap between diverse approaches to literary research.

In the UGC, Western Zone , Pune I wish to emphatically thank Dr N.K. Jain, Joint Secretary and Dr G. Srinivas, Education Officer, for co-operation in matters related to my fellowship grants.

I can never pay off the debt to my family, whom I wish to thank here: my late father, who taught me to aim high in life, my mother, a pillar of strength, my sister Veena and brother-in-law Narendra, Deepali, Jitendra, my uncles Dr S.V.Singh, Sultan Singh and my aunts Mrs Urvashi Singh and Mrs Kiran Singh. My wife, Meenu, deserves my sincere thanks for looking after herself and our family matters during my research. Master Kushal, my son and my newborn daughter, yet unnamed, also deserve my thanks for their inspiring presence in my life.

Apart from the above names, many more names can be added here, of my friends and well wishers who wanted to see this dissertation completed. I thank them all: R.B.Khandelwal, Dr N.M.Aston, Prof S.K. Iyer, Dr Manoj Bhise and his family, Dr Janardan Nair, John and his family. Of course, I wish to express my very special thanks to Debjani, for her good wishes and useful information.

I am also grateful to the following for allowing me to use their materials: British Council Libraries, Pune and Mumbai, Jaykar Library, University of Pune, Central Institute of English and Foreign Languages, Hyderabad, The Asiatic Society, Mumbai. In the end, I thank Mr and Mrs Unde for their assistance in computer work. Lest I should forget, I must thank Mrs R.P. Kakde for guiding me regarding the official formalities related to the submission of this dissertation.

Vinay Deep
