ACKNOWLEDGMENT

It is with great pleasure and sense of gratitude that I record my obligations to various scholars from whom I have derived invaluable help in the preparation of the thesis.

At the outset I express my deepest feeling of respect and gratitude to my guide Dr. B. K. Dalai, Reader, C. A. S. S. , Pune University. He was very kind to help me in every aspects from explaining the text to providing all valuable information, suggestions and guidance. I must mention that he allowed me to use his rich personal collections of various useful texts without which it would not have been possible for me to complete my work.

I specially express my gratitude and feeling of respect towards my father, Dr. S. V. Karandikar, who rendered his valuable time and guidance to enrich the present thesis through his experience and apt knowledge.

I record my obligations to Prof. V. N. Jha, Director, C.A.S.S. and Prof. Saroja Bhate, Head of the Department of Sanskrit, Pune University, for their valuable advises.

I express my gratefulness to all my teachers and well wishers of this centre as well as department, particularly to Dr. Manika Thakar, and Dr. Jayanti Tripathy, for their blessings.

I am extremely indebted to my mother-in-law, Smt. Anjali Srikant Oak, who once dreamt me to be at this stage. It is she and her blessings that alone made me reach what I am. I do not know how much I owe to her. I am extremely grateful to my husband, Mr. Prasad S. Oak, and my mother, Mrs. Lata Karandikar, for their moral support from the beginning to the final stage of my research work.

I would like to record my gratitude to Kabir Baugh Matha Sanstha, Pune to carry out my research work at the University of Pune.

I am obliged to the library staff members of C.A. S. S. and Kabir Baugh Matha Sanstha for allowing me to make use of their valuable collections.

I also express my thanks to Smt. Anagha Bhide, Trustee, Kabir Baugh Matha Sanstha, Dr. Nivedita Pingale, Research Associate, Kabir Baugh Matha Sanstha, Mrs. Deepti N. Oak, Mrs. Jyoti Saraswate, and all my family members for their various supports.

Last but not least, I thank Mr. Shekhar Vaidya and Ms. Manisha Welhekar, for computer typing of the thesis neatly in time.
