

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Before all else, the researcher wishes to acknowledge a profound indebtedness and express a hearty appreciation to Dr. C.D. Indapurkar, Head of the Department of M.Phil. & Research, Tilak College of Education, Pune for his well-experienced guidance with the well-intentioned kindness, his devotion in time and energy to the cause of accomplishing the researcher's investigation, his insistence on the best outcome of work, his wit and vigilance always reflected in the course of his supervision, and also his what not, all of which have made this research work in its present form feasible. Mere words are inadequate to substitute for the researcher's grateful feelings towards his "Maha Guru" and, thus, this unforgettable impression will be cherished in the researcher's mind for good and all.

The researcher earnestly extends his special thanks to Prof. S.A. Patankar, Principal, Tilak College of Education for his attentive concerns and valuable suggestions, particularly in helping to solve a number of problems, from the administrative point of view, from first to last throughout the researcher's stay in India.

The researcher bids his sincere thanks to the respondents to the inquiry forms and to the interviewees in both the Ubon Ratchathani and Nakhon Ratchasima Provinces of Thailand for their whole-hearted cooperation.

The researcher is very much thankful to his close friend, Dr. Vidhia Srisucondharatana, Department of Sociology, Ubon Ratchathani Teachers College for his aids in running computer programmes.

Eventually and enormously, the researcher's best thanks are due to his wife, Thanomsri Kraeusing, for her constant encouragement.
