Acknowledgements

Foremost, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my guide Dr. G. Y. Shitole for the continuous support to my research, for his patience, motivation, enthusiasm, and immense knowledge. His guidance helped me in all the time of research and writing of my thesis. I could not have imagined having a better advisor and mentor for my research work.

My sincere thanks go to Mr. A. K. Singh, Public Relation Officer and Mrs. Manjula Saxena, Chief Personnel Officer of Central Zone for granting me the permission to visit railway offices and collect data from the railway staff. Collection of primary data from such huge departments of Mumbai Division seemed to be a tough task which became easy by the permission granted by them. I acknowledge the advice and suggestions given by Mr. Ramesh Bhave, Chief Vigilance Officer which enriched the quality of thesis. His suggestions right from preparing a questionnaire to gathering of data were extremely useful. I express my thankfulness to Mr. Vikrant Khismatrao who extended every kind of help and support for this endeavor. He accompanied me to various offices to meet the higher authorities and discuss with them about my work. He equally contributed to the pool of information about various concepts and schemes related to Indian Railways. Mr. Kulkarni, Mrs. Saraswati, Mrs. Geeta Krishnan spared their valuable time out of their busy schedule. I carry a lot of respect and gratitude towards them. The cooperation of Mr. Rajesh Dhote, Welfare Inspector of Mumbai Division was unconditional for providing the relevant statistics from the office records. He also helped me a lot in getting the questionnaires filled from the departmental staff. All the officers and staff of each department of Mumbai Division were kind enough to extend every help in collection of information.

I take this opportunity to thank all the respondents at railway departments. Many of them took personal interest in my research work and provided willing cooperation. Mrs. Charu, Mr. Sheikh, Mrs. Sanjivani, Mrs. Kavita were few of them.
I place on record, my sincere thanks to the Principal of my college, Mrs. Sudha Vyas, whose encouraging words motivated me to complete my research work and my source of inspiration Dr. Deelip Palsapure, who supported me throughout this daunting task. Mr. Joseph John, Dr. Mahalaxmi Krishnan, Dr. Pramila Patil kept my morale up till completion of this task.

The well-equipped library of Somaiya Institute of Management Studies and Research was a great source of secondary data. I am grateful to the Director of the Institution for granting me the permission to use the library and also to the staff who helped me from time to time in finding the relevant books, journals and periodicals.

I render my acknowledgement to the efforts taken by Mr. Parag Mahulikar for statistical analysis and expert comments. He really spared his valuable time out of his busy schedule for the research related work. I will be failing in my duty if I do not mention the immense help provided by Dr. Anupama Nerurkar. I take this opportunity to thank my fellow colleagues in Department of Commerce, S. N. D. T. University, especially Dr. Devaki Kutty, Dr. Pradnya Mhamunkar, Ms. Sheetal Pawar, Ms. Savita Bhandakkar, Ms. Rupali Jadhav, Ms. Dimple for their continuous encouragement. They provided me every type of help when needed.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to my parents. The support and encouragement by them makes me speechless. I would not have been able to complete this work without their kind cooperation. My heartfelt thanks to my husband, Mr. Bhushan Deogirikar and my daughter Reva who stood by me during my research work and extended their fullest cooperation. I appreciate the support given by my in laws and the close relatives and friends of mine for their affection and support and I am indebted to them forever. I also place on record, my sense of gratitude to one and all, who directly or indirectly, have lent their hand in this venture.
