ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

While studying 'Political Sociology' as a part of my M.A. course in Political Science, I was attracted towards the concept of Political Socialization; which was included in the paper. Dr. Sunil Datye who was teaching this paper discussed the subject in great details and also helped me to understand certain problems of Thai Polity. My interest in Thai politics prompted me to undertake this study in which Dr. Datye gave me his valuable guidance. Therefore, in the first instance I express deep sense of gratitude towards my guide Dr. S.N. Datye, Reader and Head of the Department of Political Science, Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University, Aurangabad for the help he has given me in completing this study. His considerate attitude towards the students in general and students from foreign countries in particular - as we have to stay away from our people, country and familiar environment - is worth mentioning. It is due to his persistent interest, constant encouragement and timely valuable suggestions, that, I could successfully complete my research work in time. I thank him for all that he has done for me.

Secondly, I thank my wife Dr. Suthira for her positive attitude and intellectual companionship while I was engaged in completing this study. I am also grateful to Dr. Mrs. Apte, Reader, Department of English, Dr. B.A.M. University, Aurangabad for extending help in numerous ways. Many people helped me in collection of data, discussed with me the subject matter and gave their valuable suggestions and advice. I thank them all. I am also thankful to prominent personalities in Thailand who granted me interviews and revealed necessary information; and the students who responded to my questionnaire and helped me to have look into their perception and understanding of Thai politics. I also thank Librarian, library staff and other employees of Assumption University, Bangkok, Thailand for necessary help they extended to me.

Lastly, I thank Mr. U.E. Pechfule for neat and clean typing of this thesis and other secretarial assistance he extended to me, without which it would have been difficult to complete this work in time.
