ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It gives me a great pleasure in presenting the outcome of this research in the form of thesis. At this juncture, I would like to take an opportunity to express my deep gratitude and respect towards my guide Dr. P.S. Damle, for rendering his valuable guidance and help throughout work.

I am highly obliged to Dr. Gauri Kulkarni for her active support and also for her co-guide association which has helped me to gain clarity in many concepts. Prof. R.N. Karekar, Head of Physics Department, University of Poona is acknowledged for providing all the departmental facilities. Sincere thanks are extended to Prof. A.S. Nigavekar, former Head of Physics Department, University of Poona for availing all the departmental facilities during his tenure. I am thankful to Prof. P.R. Karmarkar, co-ordinator of School of Inter-disciplinary studies for his help in official affairs.

In recent years, research work has become a team approach; present work would not have been possible without Dr. Anand Pandit, Director Terre Des Homes, K.E.M. Hospital and Dr. Sudha Chaudhari's keen interest and support. Their co-operation is appreciated with thanks. Thanks are also due to Mrs. Surekha Shinde, social worker, who helped me in getting the cases at the University campus. I am deeply obliged to my parents, Mr. & Mrs. Dandekar and to my mother-in-law Smt. Sumati Mandke, for giving a firm support and constant encouragement during this endurance.
My special thanks are due to Dr. N.S. Mandke, who shared all my clinical responsibilities, as well as for his understanding for all of the extended hours of work and missed weekends that went into this project.

Mrs. Aruna N.Sangekar and Mrs. Nandini V. Joshi are also acknowledged with thanks for helping me at my clinic and also helping me out for my other teaching assignments. Thanks are also due to Mrs. Nandini V. Joshi for correcting the manuscript.

Ms. Rajas Gole and Mr. Milan Banerjee, students from Biophysics department also receive thanks for their support and for the stimulating discussions during this project.

Thanks are extended to Ms. Alka Aher for computer work and to Mr. Jadhav for his fine photography, Mrs. Aparna Sowani's art work and M/s Rajas Typewriting Centre for fine typing work are also acknowledged with thanks.
