ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I sincerely acknowledge the Almighty God; it is with His blessings and willingness that I could accomplish this work.
Foremost, I am grateful to Prof. Rakesh Bhatnagar, my guide and mentor through this journey for his constant support, encouragement, supervision, and freedom to realize my scientific pursuit. His unstinting faith in my abilities and zeal to strive for more, have given new directions to this work. He has been a keystone in my professional development.
I would further extend sincere thanks to the Dean, Prof. Rajiv Bhat for providing all the necessary facilities in SBT. I would like to acknowledge Prof. Santosh Kar, Prof. Aparna Dixit, Prof. Uttam Pati, Prof. K. J. Mukherjee, Dr. Devpriya Chaudhary, Dr. S.S. Maitra, Dr. Ranjana Arya, Dr. Swati Tiwari and Dr. Maitreyi Rajala for their support and encouragement.
A special credit goes to Dr. Anant Rai (IVRI, Izatnagar) for allowing me to use his virus handling facility and giving vital inputs for this study. Further, I would like to express gratitude to Shardul and Ankur, for smooth work at IVRI.
I also acknowledge Dr. James Gomes (IIT, Delhi) for his worthwhile advice and suggestions that helped me to accomplish up-scaling experiments. My sincere thanks to Sanjay, Lalit and technical staff at IITD.
The lab environment plays immense role in productivity of any student. I would like to thank all my lab mates for being cooperative, helpful, and providing congenial atmosphere. I will be always thankful to Puneet Sir and Yogi Sir for giving me valuable advices about tricks of survival in this department, the “mini-world”! I am indebted to Subhash Sir for familiarizing me with the intricacies of molecular biology and animal experiments. I am grateful to Azhar Sir, Megha, Sheeba, Shuchi, Jyotsna, Mohan, for their support and scientific discussions. I will always treasure the time spent with Shivangi, Shivani, Tanu, Kanchan and Parul. The moments of fun rather insanity, which we shared, made it easier to tide over most slogging and laborious times. I also acknowledge Amit, Venky, Manish, Divya, Guru, Sonam, Rajni, Shashi for their jovial company and support. Big thanks to you all! I hope Amit- the "Mem's student" will forgive me for all the scolding and lectures; I have always showered him with!
Sandhya, Parul, Neha, Jyoti, Jai, Samarpita, Varsha, Dhananjay, Priyanka, Tanupriya, Hema, Shivani, Nitika, Sumit, Hemant have provided me cheerful company in the lab. I will always cherish special moments spent with Sandhya, Samarpita and Hema; big hug and loads of love to you all!
The summer trainees Melanie, Chaitali, Ritika, Neha, Vineeta, Debashish, Devyani, Shreya, Malathi, Ribhu, Preksha, Anirudh, Vikram, Swati, Namrata, Sonam, Neeti, will always be part of my fond memories. Their enthusiasm in learning has helped me to evolve.
A big thanks to Meenakshi, Anitha, Asha Di, Himanshu and Isha for excellent assistance and smooth functioning of the lab.
Ghanshyam ji, Umesh ji and Taposh have been indispensable. Umesh ji deserves special thanks for the excellent lab cleaning. Ghanshyam ji has been highly cooperative and supportive, and ever ready to run for my errands. Taposh, the "big kid" has really shown me the meaning of "living life". Help extended by Amresh ji and Mukesh Bhaiya on several instances is appreciated. My batchmates Chaitali, Jitendra, Madhu, Amit, Trinath - the Gang 2004, have been amazing friends. Their cheerful company, everlasting support, and encouragement were highly valuable during my work. It was great fun exploring JNU and around with you all. Cheers to our friendship! The congenial environment and help provided by Amjad Sir, Anoop, Gargi, Kamia, Amir, Kiran, Anupam, Rajan, Rajkumar Sir, Sahu, Puneet Prabha, Preeti, Vibhuti, Shailesh, Keshav, Sunita, Atul, Feroz, Khushoo Sir, Suman Mam, Sanjay Sir, Sujeet, Anuradha, Subhashree, Neeraj Sir, Saurav Sir, Swapnil, Manish, Harpreet, Neida, Shweta, are acknowledged. Discussions with Anoop on almost everything on this earth and yummy lunch sessions with Sunita, will always be part of my memoirs. Help extended by Naipal ji, Sindhu ma'am and Yadav ji on numerous occasions is acknowledged. I am deeply grateful to the office staff, Tyagi Sir, Manuj Sir, Tewari ji, Ayyar Sir, Vedpal ji, Dilbagh ji, Sajjan Bhaiya and Ajay Sir for their cooperation. My sincere thanks to Animal House staff of JNU, especially Pandey ji and Raju Bhaiya. Without the help provided by Raju Bhaiya in animal experiments, this study would not be an easy task. I can never ever thank Rajesh Bhaiya for preparing all those endless teas, coffees and samosas, which kept me going for the arduous working hours. Rajiv Bhaiya and Vikas Bhaiya are also acknowledged. They have patiently and cheerfully tended to my innumerous laptop problems. I take this opportunity to thank my best of friends: Shikha, Meetali, Tania, Sarita and Rohini, who have been forever by my side. It's been with them that I have been through discovery of what is life all about and learnt how to make the best of it. Not to miss, Youth For Equality, which taught me that if any transformation has to be brought in the society, we have to initiate it; and every effort, how so ever small, is indeed a step towards reaching the goal. It not only introduced me to various spheres of life but also bestowed me with two life long friends - Saroj and Brundabana. On a different note, I would always cherish the JNU life, its very atmosphere, freedom of expression, dhaba culture. I would also acknowledge the Jhelum Gang - "Biker Devils of JNU", for the much-needed break and refreshment during the most difficult and monotonous phase of this work, the thesis writing! Support extended by Sunman during this phase is also cherished. Financial support from CSIR is duly acknowledged. The contribution of Anuj in this entire phase of work and life is immense and beyond any description. He has always stood by my side through ups and downs; supporting, encouraging and motivating me; keeping my spirits high and inspiring me to aim higher. You are truly a "Friend". God bless!
Soniya Bhabhi and my cousins need special mention here for their love and support. My parents and my brother - Raman, have been my source of sustenance and inspiration. I owe my parents, much of what I have become. I thank them for their love, care, support, encouragement and confidence. They have always taught me to set high goals and work hard to achieve them. They taught me to value honesty, courage and humility above all other virtues. I dedicate this work to them, to honour their love, patience, and support during all these years.
