This thesis is my first scientific (and literary) endeavor and like all "firstborn" has proved to be a tremendous learning experience. During the period of this study, I have been accompanied and supported by many peoples. These words go out to thank all of those who have contributed to making this a truly enriching journey.

The first person I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude is my supervisor, Dr. Vinod Bhakuni, who has always been a great source of inspiration and motivation for me. I consider myself extremely fortunate to have the opportunity to do my Ph.D under his able guidance. His scientific acumen, strong determination, excellent knowledge, immensely valuable ideas and unconditional support have been vital for me to take up this research work. Every discussion with him was a pleasant learning experience and helped me in better understanding of the finer concepts of the work. He always gave the freedom to express ideas and execute experiments. I am indebted to him for all his help especially during the challenging times. With his very positive approach, he assisted me in boiling the essential out of my results and helped me to make coverage to this thesis. I regard him as an outstanding excellent scientific supervisor and a praiseworthy person to work with.

I am very much thankful to the former Director CDRI, Dr. C.M Gupta and present Director CDRI, Dr. Rakesh Tuli, for providing excellent facilities at the institute for carrying out the research work. I acknowledge the financial assistance provided by Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, New Delhi during the course of this study. I attribute my sincere thanks to Dr. Maulik, Dr. Ashish, Dr. Saman, Dr. Ravikshanker, Dr. Jimut, Dr. Siddiqui, Dr. Pratap, Dr. Shakti and Dr. Amogh for their untiring support and suggestions. I wish to extend my thanks to off station personalities, Profs. Alessandro Aliverti and Giuliana Zanetii for providing plasmid DNA of TgFNR, and without their kind gesture this work could not have started. I also appreciate Mr. Sanjeev Kannoujia and Dr. Brajesh for their invaluable support throughout the course of this study, they were always found helpful to me with their suggestions and calm behavior.

I feel extremely fortunate in having seniors like Sohail sir and Anant sir. It is my pleasure to thank them for their friendly behavior, unconditional supports and suggestions and for clarifying lots of fundamentals about science and so many other things related to the lab. Their clear understanding of the work, intellectual prowess and energy has been inspirational to me. Sandeep Sir, Sarita and Nidhi deserve special thanks for the support and suggestions. I would like to extend my sincere thanks to other lab mates Parul, Soniya, Ranjeet, Priyanka, Timir, Vibhor and Sudhir for their help and keeping an enjoyable environment in the lab. The time spent with my best friend Prabodh will remain most cherished memories. Having such caring and blessing friend in life is a gift of God. His words of encouragement and his untiring help never made me lose hope. I look up him as a wonderful friend and an unforgettable personality in my life.

I owe lots of gratitude to my seniors Susma, Sharda, Sandeep, Neeta, Naresh, Akshay, Himansu, Ambrish, Ramesh, Raza, Raghvendra, Aqueel, Sarvind, Shuja, Swapnil, Amit, Tripti, Gauri and colleagues Subir, Brijesh, Ashutosh, Shailendra, Raghu, Shantaram, Ramakrishna, Gaya, Vandana, Satish, Bijay, Vijay, Rahul, Anjum, Prem, Sarfuddin, Sudhanshu and other student members of the division for all their supports, help and keeping a cordial environment in division.

I am glad for the lovely company provided by my friends Prabodh, Subir, Brijesh, Ranjeet and Alok for enjoying many parties during this time course. Alok, Awadh, Antima, Shivendra and Sweta deserve special thanks for their untiring help whenever I needed. I am very much grateful to Ashutosh, and Malay for their computational help in formatting thesis.

I would also like to express my gratitude to my off station friends Ambak, Sanjay, Gopal, Parshant and Rajkumar for all their support. I had the pleasure to supervise and work with several students who did their project work and have been somehow beneficial for the work presented in this thesis.

I acknowledge the technical assistance form Rajan ji, Radheyskym ji, Jaipurkshiy ji, Khanna ji, Haleem ji, Ruchir ji, Anupam ji, and Sarita ji for their much needed help all along. Daily lab core assistance from Deepak ji is also acknowledged.

Special thanks goes to the family members of Sir for being supportive and having some wonderful time together.

My sincere appreciation goes to the entire CDRI faculty and staff members especially Wadhera ji, Gupta ji and Mishra ji who were ever helpful whenever approached.

At last, but, definitely, by far, not the least, I would like to thank my family members and relatives for their constant support, unconditional love and affection and ....well, for simply BEING the most wonderful people I know. I feel a deep sense of gratitude for my late mother who formed part of my vision and taught me the good things that really matter in life. The happy memory of my mother still provides a persistent inspiration for my journey in my life. There is no word to pay gratitude to Papa and Chacha, who trust in me a lot. Words cannot describable all their efforts and silent sacrifice for me. A special thanks goes to Mintoo and Bhaiyya for their instant support whenever needed. I warmly acknowledge the support of Mama, Didi and Jijaji at different stage of this study. Wonderful company of Prince is also acknowledged during the period of thesis writing.

And above all I thank the lord for showering his blessings and enabling me to persue this task.
